LOADS OF LETTERS FROM LARKSPUR LIBRARY

Almost hidden behind 3,000 letters, Larkspur children's librarian Ann White hands a book to her daughter, Gail, before setting off to the post office. In an effort to let Larkspur and Greenbrae residents know all about the library — which is tucked away behind city hall — more than 3,000 hand-addressed brochures were mailed by library staff today in a public information exercise financed by the Friends of the Larkspur Library.

BART Criticism Valid, Says Boss

OAKLAND (UPI) — The general manager of the Bay Area Rapid Transit system (BART) admitted today that criticism of the system's safety by the state legislative analyst was justified.

But he said BART engineers expect to have their problems solved before the line is completed for San Francisco.

General Manager B. R. Stokes, however, told a special meeting of BART's board of directors that legislative analyst A. Alan Post was guilty of "skewed perspective" which could be "easily translated into suspect conclusions."

Post's report, issued last week, charged that the system's electronic detection units controlling train movements had not been proved completely reliable and safe. He also criticized some of the system's management practices.

Stokes said BART fully agreed with the analyst's recommendation that San Francisco service should not start until the train control system has been fully proven.

Asked about the system's $36 million computer which is supposed to control train movements automatically and which were criticized by the legislative report, Stokes said, "we have recognized the problem and we will have it solved by

Redevelop Plan Session Wednesday

San Rafael city councilmen and county supervisors will meet Wednesday to discuss San Rafael's controversial redevelopment plan.

The meeting, to be attended by two councilmen, two supervisors and various staff members, is scheduled for 10 a.m. at San Rafael City Hall.

The meeting was requested several weeks ago by Mayor C. Paul Bettini to iron out differences between the two agencies and avoid litigation.

Supervisors slated to attend are Arnold M. Baptist and Robert A. Roumiguere, along with county counsel Douglas J. Maloney and County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

The county threatened legal action last month if the city approved redevelopment plans for the downtown and eastern portions of the city. The city council approved the plans last week.

The county claims it and other taxing agencies will lose revenues because of a complicated financing system that allows redevelopment agencies to siphon off future tax revenues.

Ski Season Begins At Squaw Valley

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Squaw Valley ski resort opened last weekend as snowstorms dumped up to three feet of powder on slopes above the 7,000-foot level.

A spokesman estimated some 3,000 skiers, mostly from the San Francisco Bay Area, made their first runs of the season on the Siberia and Emigrant slopes.

22 Dead As Storm Rips North Europe

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Gale winds gusting up to 124 miles-per-hour screamed across much of northern Europe early today, driving floodwaters into thousands of homes, sending ships aground and causing death and destruction in several countries.

At least 22 persons were reported killed in storm-related accidents in five countries. Scores more were injured by flying debris, and damage to homes and installations ran into major sums, authorities said.

Britain, Ireland, the Netherlands, Belgium, France, East and West Germany took the brunt of the storm—the first big one of the winter.

Dozens of vessels ran into trouble. The Chinese ship Wan Chun was torn from anchorage in the North Sea and ran ashore on the Dutch coast. A small Danish motor vessel, the Metrice, with seven men and two women aboard called for help after running ashore on Texel island in Dutch waters. They were rescued by helicopter.

Terra Linda Wins Spot In Bay Bowl

Terra Linda and Redwood high schools clinched Marin County Athletic League football co-championships and Terra Linda earned a spot in the Top of the Bay Bowl with victories Saturday, as the Trojans defeated Tamalpais, 21-0, and the Giants thrashed Drake, 48-6.

In other games involving teams from Marin and southern Sonoma, Rancho Cotate of Rohnert Park concluded its second consecutive undefeated season by defeating Menlo School in Menlo Park, 16-0. St. Vincent of Petaluma beat Kelseyville, 12-8, and Novato topped San Marin, 9-0.

College of Marin lost to Santa Rosa Junior College, 21-7. Terra Linda will meet North Bay League champion Petaluma Saturday at 8 p.m. in the first Top of the Bay Bowl in Napa Memorial Stadium.

Peace Pact Claimed One Meeting Away

But Saigon And Hanoi Might Ask Extension

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House said today that more than one additional negotiating session in Paris will be needed before a Vietnam cease-fire agreement can be wrapped up.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said both Hanoi and Saigon may insist on extension of the talks involving presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger.

Ziegler refused to confirm or deny reports that Kissinger would go to Paris later this week for another session with LeDuc Tho, Hanoi's chief negotiator.

But, in an indication that a Vietnam cease-fire was not as near as the administration previously indicated, he said: "After such a meeting further consultations will be required with the South Vietnamese and perhaps with the North Vietnamese."

Ziegler's comments came as President Nixon started a stay of more than a week at his Camp David, Md., retreat, to consider the Vietnam peace efforts and to work out details of his post-election reorganization of the bureaucracy.

Kissinger stayed in Washington to meet his chief deputy, Gen. Alexander Haig, on his return this afternoon from talks with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, before both flew to Camp David for Haig's first-hand report to the President.

Ziegler's remarks about the additional negotiations required for a settlement suggested that the negotiations had hit some snags. In confirming reports that a nine-point peace plan was imminent, Kissinger said on Oct. 26:

"We believe, incidentally, what remains to be done can be settled in one more negotiating session with the North Vietnamese negotiators, lasting, no more than three or four days."

Ziegler also said the President's stay at the camp "certainly will be more than a week" as he tackles the job of reorganizing the executive branch of government — his first pledge following his landslide re-election.

In drawing up details of the shakeup, Nixon will be working closely with his chief domestic affairs advisers, and with Frederick Malek, the former White House talent scout called back to help with the project.

Ziegler said today that industrialist Roy Ash, who headed a special panel that recommended structural changes in the government, had returned to the White House on temporary assignment to help Malek work up plans.

As for Haig's report to the President, Ziegler said the general brought back a letter to Nixon from Thieu, although he declined to discuss the contents.

Nixon flew to his mountain retreat just prior to Haig's return.

Viet Paper Says Peace Rumors Are Groundless

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Saigon newspaper Tin Song, believed to reflect the views of President Nguyen Van Thieu, said today Thieu's weekend discussions with White House peace envoy Gen. Alexander Haig "have not made any progress."

The American sources said Haig, who arrives in Washington today from Seoul, is carrying a letter for President Nixon giving Nixon conditional approval to sign an agreement with North Vietnam that would permit the return of U.S. prisoners of war and let South Vietnam settle its differences later.

The sources said Thieu told Nixon the American president could go ahead and work out a settlement with the Communists to help free American prisoners of war as long as it did not compromise South Vietnam's position.

The Saigon newspaper Tin Song (Live News) said rumors about the signing of a peace treaty soon are groundless because the discussions between the Vietnamese and Americans have not ended yet. The newspaper quoted a source on the South Vietnamese National Security Council.

"The discussions between the Republic of Vietnam and emissary Alexander Haig in the past days have not made any progress," Tin Song said its source reported.

The newspaper is backed financially by Hoang Duc Nha, Thieu's nephew and personal secretary, who was present at all meetings last month with Kissinger and at the discussions during the weekend with Haig.

Tin Song also said its source on the National Security Council, which met with Haig and Thieu Saturday night, said differences between the South Vietnamese and the Communists have not changed and three main points remain to be clarified — supervision of a cease-fire, withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam and the duties of the proposed Council of National Reconciliation and Concord.

Tin Song said its source reported a peace treaty will be signed only when all the details of an agreement are clear.

Thieu wants teams responsible for enforcing a cease-fire to be in place when the fighting stops. He also has demanded the public withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces from South Vietnam.

The North Vietnamese have never admitted they have troops fighting in the South but Thieu estimates Hanoi's army below the Demilitarized Zone at 300,000. The most recent U.S. estimate is 125,000.

Thieu also wants assurances that the proposed Council of Reconciliation is not a "disguised" coalition government with the Communists. He wants any Communist representation in the government to be determined by elections.

Court Rejects Ellsberg Hearing Request To Pave Way For Trial

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The

Supreme Court voted 7 to 2 today to let the government proceed with the trial of Daniel Ellsberg on charges of stealing the Pentagon Papers.

The action came in a brief order which declined to grant a hearing on the contention of Ellsberg and his co-defendant, Anthony J. Russo Jr., that their right to a fair trial had been impaired by federal wiretapping.

Justices William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan Jr. objected to the Court's refusal to hear arguments at this time.

A spokesman for Ellsberg, who has acknowledged leaking the secret documents on the Vietnam war study to the press, said he doubted that the trial in Los Angeles would resume before mid-December, and possibly not until early next year. He said the challenge of the government's wiretapping would be kept alive as grounds for another appeal to the Supreme Court if Ellsberg and Russo are convicted.

The Court also: —Refused to review rulings by appeals courts involving school integration disputes in three states. Without comment, the Court let stand lower court actions which called for more busing in Augusta, Ga.; directed Fort Worth, Tex., take further steps to eliminate vestiges of segregation, and struck down a Louisiana parish's use of achievement tests to assign students at a newly desegregated school.

—Let stand a ruling that William T. Farr, a reporter for the Los Angeles Herald Examiner, was properly sentenced to jail for refusing to say in 1970 which attorneys in the Charles Manson "family" murder case gave him information against orders of the trial judge.

—Refused to block a civil contempt judgment against three men who claimed illegal government eavesdropping gave them grounds to refuse to testify before a federal grand jury in San Francisco.

The men are Howard Berg, a Minneapolis physicist; Dr. Philip Craven, a San Juan, Puerto Rico, physician, and Daniel Rosenberg of San Francisco, a former conservationist with the Sierra Club.

31 Safe After Bizarre Hijacking

MIAMI (UPI)—Thirty-one jetliner crew and passengers returned from Cuba Sunday night to end one of the longest and most bizarre hijackings in history. Some of them were bitterly critical of FBI attempts to abort the hijacking with gunfire.

The return flight from Cuba was made aboard another jetliner flown to Havana after the hijacked Southern Airways plane skidded to a landing on bullet-riddled tires. Three passengers were injured jumping from the crippled airliner, which had criss-crossed North America while three black hijackers tried to collect $10 million ransom and speak personally with President Nixon.

The copilot, Billy Harold Johnson, 37, of College City, Ark., said he was shot in the left arm by the hijackers after FBI marksmen tried to prevent the plane from taking off from Orlando, Fla., Saturday night.

"This really provoked the hijackers. They ordered me to stand up in one of the seats so they could shoot me," said Johnson. "They told me they were going to kill me in front of everyone to make an example of the thing." Johnson squirmed between the cockpit seats for protection but was wounded in the arm. The hijackers then left him alone, he said.

A passenger, J. Frank Robinson, 47, St. Petersburg, Fla., said "everything was okay until then (the FBI shooting).

"Everybody kept his cool. But when that happened, none of us knew what was going to happen next. They just about got us killed by doing it," Robinson said he heard the pilot say the FBI had "double-crossed" him by shooting at the plane. Robinson injured his leg jumping from the plane in Havana.

Dr. Gale Buchanan, 35, a professor at Auburn University in Alabama, said he didn't think the FBI shooting "was a very wise decision. Now that I look back over it, it's frightening. That's the only time I really thought we were going to die—when the FBI opened fire on the plane."

Radio Havana in its broadcast of the landing said several passengers criticized the FBI shooting as "a criminal act that put all of their lives in danger."

The FBI has given no explanation for the shooting.

The hijackers, who remained in Havana after reportedly collecting $2 million in ransom, were charged with air piracy by the FBI. They were identified as accused rapists Henry Deewilliam Jackson Jr., 27, and Louis Moore, 27, both of Detroit, and Melvin Charles Cale, 22, a fugitive from a Tennessee prison. Havana Radio said the hijackers were "apprehended" by Cuban militiamen.

Russians See Accelerator

STANFORD (UPI)—Stanford University has quietly shown two nuclear scientists from the Soviet Union through its two-mile long linear accelerator.

Those making the tour were A. Petrosyants, chairman of the state committee for the utilization of atomic energy in the USSR, and V. Semiyonov, a member of the committee's foreign section.

They came to Stanford from Chicago where they visited other Russian scientists who are working in the national accelerator laboratory and before that had visited atomic facilities in Washington, D.C.

Redevelopment Funds On Agenda

An agreement with the City of San Rafael for the return of funds which might be diverted to the city's redevelopment agency will be discussed by the San Rafael Board of Education at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district office.

The city council last week approved plans for redevelopment overprotests of school and county officials, who feared they would lose some future taxes.

Lebanese Violence Is Feared

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL
The army took over security in Lebanon today to deal with any outbreaks of violence or unrest in the wake of a weekend clash in Beirut which left two persons dead and at least 14 injured.

But leftwing labor unions and political organizations in the Jordanian capital of Amman announced they would demonstrate anyway against what they branded a "police massacre" despite a government order forbidding such action without official permission.

Both rightwing and leftwing political leaders also called for the resignation of Premier Saeb Salam. The leader of the opposition Progressive Socialist Party said his resignation should be "the price paid for the killings."

The newspaper An Nahar said today groups calling the strike and demonstrations did not have permission from the authorities, but planned to go ahead.

The army's security takeover did not mean martial law, judicial sources said.

Magician Will Present Program

Zalain the Magician will entertain youngsters in the gallery of the Mill Valley Library Saturday from 11 a.m. to noon, according to Margo Farnsworth, children's librarian.

His performance will bring to an end children's book week, which started today. A display of new books, which will be available for circulation, will also mark the week, she said.

U.S. Planes Fly Heaviest Strikes

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. warplanes struck in the heaviest raids of the war in the North Vietnam Panhandle area during the weekend, but the action tapered off Sunday both in the air and in ground fighting in the South, military sources said today.

The U.S. command said there were 390 single plane attacks from Saturday through Sunday. A total of 240 strikes were flown against North Vietnamese positions Saturday, the highest total of the war. Another 150 were flown Sunday.

The command also said 21 B52 strikes were directed against targets in the Panhandle area from Saturday through noon today.

U.S. Navy jet pilots said seven Soviet-built missiles were fired at them Sunday as they bombed a North Vietnamese airfield only six miles south of the 20th parallel, the 7th Fleet reported today. None of the jets was hit, the Navy said.

But in the coastal highlands about 280 miles north of Saigon, a U.S. OH6 Loach light observation helicopter was hit by ground fire today and one of its two crewmen was wounded. The pilot managed to jockey the damaged craft back to his base at Landing Zone English, according to field reports.

On orders from President Nixon Oct. 23, U.S. air raids on North Vietnam were restricted to below the 20th Parallel, which runs 65 miles south of Hanoi and Haiphong.

In ground fighting, Communist attacks dropped to 62 for the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. EST today, the lowest in six weeks. However, South Vietnamese marines near Quang Tri city were reported to have come under a second consecutive day of bombardment by more than 1,000 shells. The barges were the heaviest since the city was recaptured from the North Vietnamese Sept. 16.

Near Long My in the Mekong Delta, about 100 miles southwest of Saigon, South Vietnamese militiamen repulsed a Communist attack before dawn Sunday, the command said. The militiamen reported killing five of the attackers while sustaining seven dead and 15 wounded.

In a delayed report, military sources said 28 regional force militiamen were killed Saturday and six wounded out of a battalion of about 500 men in a midday battle near Sam Giang. The sources said Communist casualties in the battle, 40 miles southwest of Saigon, were unknown.

Two South Vietnamese A1 propeller-driven Skyraiders were shot down during fighting late Sunday on the big Michelin rubber plantation 40 miles northwest of Saigon, the command said. The pilots were rescued, but one was reported to be seriously wounded.

Actress May File Suit Against Ross

LONDON (UPI) — Actress Raquel Welch says she has advised her attorneys to file a suit for assault and battery against Warner Brothers' director Herbert Ross.

She said Saturday Ross struck her in her dressing room while she was filming "The Last of Sheila" last week on the French Riviera. She said the suit would probably be filed in Los Angeles.

Solon Dies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, who was retiring after 11 terms in Congress, died early today at Bethesda Naval hospital after a 12-year battle with heart trouble. He was 71.

Bow was ranking Republican member of the key House Appropriations Committee.

He said several months ago that he would not seek reelection this year, and a few weeks ago President Nixon announced that he intended to nominate Bow as U.S. ambassador to Panama.

Mission To Mars

PASADENA (UPI) — The Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Cal Tech, which managed the Mariner mission to Mars for NASA's Office of Space Science, said yesterday they had made five major discoveries about the Red Planet.

The major findings, the JPL reported were:

The discovery that much of the previously puzzling variation in the planet's appearance is caused by huge dust storms.

The close-up recording to such a storm showed that dust clouds towered up to 37 miles.

The discovery that Mars may well have had free-flowing water, the satellite's cameras showing evidence of what appeared to be dried-up beds of river and stream systems.

Finding of an equatorial crevasse several thousand miles long.

Discovery that Mars is a geologically active planet, with volcanic mountains.

House Dissolved

TOKYO (UPI) — Emperor Hirohito formally dissolved the 491-seat House of Representatives today, setting the stage for Premier Kakuei Tanaka and his ruling Liberal-Democratic Party to seek a new mandate at premature national elections Dec. 10.

The emperor issued the order on instructions from Tanaka and his cabinet.

Tanaka and the cabinet decided earlier today at an emergency meeting to dissolve parliament and call elections now in hopes of winning a fresh four-year mandate on the strength of his Peking and Washington policies.

Political sources said Tanaka and his party were likely to return to power handily.

Pope Drops Plan

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Vatican sources said yesterday that Pope Paul VI has decided against an overhaul of the system now used to elect popes despite recent reports that he would do so.

The sources said the 75-year-old pontiff is likely to continue allowing only cardinals to vote for popes — with the possible exception of a special 15-man commission of Rome-based bishops.

For more than a year, the sources said, Paul has been studying a possible reform of the ancient conclave system the Roman Catholic church uses to elect its pontiffs. They said earlier that a document on the subject was likely next year.

But now, the sources said, the Pope has not prepared a document on the reform nor has he decided what to do because major theological objections make reform more difficult at first thought.

Vigilante Force

BELFAST (UPI) — Roman Catholics reacted today to the latest slaying of a Catholic by announcing the formation of a new vigilante force to defend their homes from Protestant attacks.

At the same time, authorities announced yesterday was the first violence-free day in Northern Ireland since Aug. 1 when British troops tightened their campaign against Irish Republican Army (IRA) extremists in guerrilla strongholds.

But police cautioned both Protestants and Catholics to beware of a possible wave of assassinations in Northern Ireland following the Saturday killing of a Catholic shopkeeper.

Wins Judgment

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Mrs. Robert Hendrick, 56, has won a $595,000 judgment against a surgeon who allegedly performed fraudulent operations on her back, causing partial loss of functioning in her lower body.

During the 10-week trial, doctors testified that at least 15 other patients were victims of unnecessary surgery by former Sacramento orthopedist Dr. John G. Nork, a Columbia University Medical School graduate who now practices at the Veterans Administration hospital in Martinez.

Mrs. Hendrick's attorney, Edward Freidberg, argued that Nork misled patients to believe surgery was required because he was heavily in debt.

Strike Strategy

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL
Top UAW local officials have planned a meeting tomorrow with the specific goal of spearheading more effective strike strategy against General Motors Corp. to solidify settlements of workload disputes.

The United Auto Workers have called 11 strikes in a month, including the current one at the Wilmington, Del., complex with 4,150 workers off their jobs.

Strike notices were sent out for Friday at General Motors Assembly Division (GMAD) plants at Arlington, Texas, Janesville, Wis., Lakewood, Ga., the Delco-Moraine plant at Dayton, Ohio, and Fisher Body plant No. 1 at Flint, Mich.

RUOLF FRIML

Operettist Rudolf Friml Dies At 92

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rudolf Friml, last of the great operettists, died last night. He was 92. The diminutive, Prague-born composer of "Rose Marie" and "The Vagabond King" succumbed after a lengthy illness at Presbyterian Hospital. He had entered the hospital on Oct. 5 for treatment of the undisclosed illness. Last February he was hospitalized for internal bleeding. He was known as the last of the big three operettists, along with Victor Herbert and Sigmund Romberg. But besides his 33 operettas, he composed numerous works in other forms and was renowned as a pianist. An operette is a light, amusing, often farcical musical-dramatic work with an inconsequential plot, cheerful music and spoken dialogue. Friml was classified as a romanticist who favored themes of the swash-buckling past. His works were strong on melody. He wrote his first operetta, "Firefly," in 1912 and was active into his 90s. He wrote such popular songs as "Indian Love Call" and "Donkey Serenade," which he later called an "abortion." He never would name his favorite.

Manila To Try Reds In Absentia

MANILA (UPI) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos signed a new martial law decree today to allow military tribunals to try in absentia leaders of the outlawed Communist Party of the Philippines (CPP) and fugitive rebels. Information Secretary Francisco S. Tatad said the decree provided that the government first publish in a nationally circulated newspaper for at least two consecutive weeks before trial the necessary indictments against those concerned. Tatad said the first targets are the leaders of the dissident movement led by Jose Maria Sison, 31, CPP chairman, and his military commander, Lt. Victor Corpus, who defected to the rebel side two years ago.

Registration Of Cycles Is Slow

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State officials say they are experiencing only modest success in registering motorcycles and other off-highway vehicles under a four-month-old law aimed at both controlling the vehicles and benefiting their riders. Only 45,000 of the state's estimated 1.25 million cycles, trail bikes and other off-highway vehicles have been licensed under the newly imposed $15, two-year fee, officials reported Sunday.

Arizona Killer Escapes, Takes, Frees Hostages

TEMPE, Ariz. (UPI) — When Charles Clover, 58, awoke at 3 a.m., there was a zip gun stuck in his face and a notorious killer of the 1960s behind it.

That was the way Clover learned that Charles Schmid Jr., 30, the "Pied Piper of Tucson," had entered his ranch house Sunday through a bathroom window after escaping from the Arizona State Prison, where Schmid was serving a life sentence for strangling three teen-age girls.

With Schmid, Clover told police later, was another escaped convict and convicted murderer, Raymond I. Hudgens, 32.

The manhunt for the two men shifted today to the Tempe area, where Schmid and Hudgens fled after taking Clover, a woman and two teenage boys hostage.

The other three were not identified to protect them.

Clover said they were forced at gunpoint to drive the two fugitives to Tempe from his home at Florence, about 55 miles away.

In Tucson, where Schmid was convicted of three murders and sentenced to death in 1965 in one of the sensational trials of the decade, police said they were guarding the homes of some persons involved in the case, because of his threats at the time to "come back and get some people." A police spokesman declined to identify those who received guards "for fear of giving him (Schmid) ideas."

Schmid escaped Saturday in his second attempt in as many months. Prison officials said it appeared Schmid and Hudgens jumped a fence at the education and rehabilitation portion of the prison and were not missed for about three hours.

While state police and sheriff's deputies, including some in a light plane and a helicopter, searched the desert around the prison, the two convicts were holed up in a vineyard nearby, according to a conversation overheard later by Clover.

They ate toast and tortillas and drank coffee, taking turns covering Clover with the pistol, until a Scottsdale woman in her early 40s arrived at the house Sunday afternoon. Getting no answer to her ring, she entered the house and was also taken prisoner, deputies said. Shortly afterward, two 16-year-old boys, also from Scottsdale, came to the home and were captured.

Texas Hit By Three Twisters

ZAVALLA, Tex. (UPI) — At least three tornadoes hit central and southwest Texas today and Sunday night killing two persons near Zavalla and causing more than $1 million damage.

High winds, hail and heavy rains were reported in the eastern portion of the state where more than 150 houses and mobile homes were damaged.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil B. Jones, both 58, who died when their mobile home was destroyed by a tornado.

Authorities reported 18 persons suffered minor injuries in the storms.

A second twister touched down in downtown Port Arthur and destroyed one building by lifting it from its foundation and setting it down about 25 feet away.

A tornado slammed into Waco Sunday night, damaged a farm house and uprooted several trees.

91 Nations Ink Accord To Control Sea Dumping

LONDON (UPI) — Ninety-one nations reached agreement today on a new international convention to control the dumping of wastes at sea.

Belgian Ambassador Jean van den Bosch was the first to put his signature to the agreement, which lays down strict international controls for the dumping at sea of toxic or dangerous wastes.

Other nations signed in alphabetical order at a Georgian desk before the sweeping gilt staircase in the ornate main hall of Lancaster house, the British government's conference center.

The delegates from 79 countries and observers from 12 others argued final details into the small hours this morning. The conference, which began Oct. 30, was to have ended last Friday, but was extended after last-minute disagreement.

The convention, which must be ratified by individual governments, stipulated which substances could be dumped freely at sea and which should be dumped only under strict control as to quantity and location. The agreement broadly follows American legislation which President Nixon signed into law on Oct. 28.

The sources said the treaty is expected to prohibit the dumping anywhere at sea of heavy metals such as mercury and cadmium, both highly toxic.

The treaty would require subscribing nations to refuse navigation permits to ships carrying noxious wastes through their territorial waters if there were grounds for suspecting they planned to dump the materials, the sources said.

Probe Of Family In Killings Widens

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI) — The McCrary family, being investigated in connection with 22 killings in seven states, was split up today and facing criminal charges in Texas, California and Colorado.

Police have said the family's activities and travels are being examined by homicide investigators throughout the country. So far, detectives have linked family members to 16 killings, including seven in Texas, and were questioning them about six others.

The family's "base of operations" was reportedly the East Texas town of Athens. A number of the slayings took place on nights when there was a full moon.

Danny McCrary, 19, the youngest member of the family, was extradited during the weekend to Dallas, where he was arraigned on charges of robbery and murder.

His sister, Ginger McCrary Taylor, was taken to Lakewood, Colo., where she faced bad check charges.

Their father, Sherman McCrary, 47, and Mrs. Taylor's husband, Carl R. Taylor, 38, have been named in federal warrants charging them with kidnaping and murdering a 17-year-old doughnut shop waitress in South Salt Lake City. Police said they probably would be extradited to Utah soon.

The elder McCrary is now in Folsom Prison, and Taylor in San Quentin, serving sentences of 5 years to life for a supermarket robbery here in which a policeman was shot and critically wounded.

McCrary's wife, Carolyn, 45, was in jail here serving a nine month sentence for harboring fugitives — her husband and son-in-law.

The youngest McCrary was held in Dallas in connection with the kidnap, robbery and murder of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Covey of Mesquite, Tex.

Authorities said ballistics tests showed that the pistol used in the robbery for which the elder McCrary and Taylor were sentenced was used in a series of killings in Texas.

The family is also being investigated in connection with the slayings of a waitress in Lakewood, Colo., two beauty shop operators and the 16-year-old daughter of one of them in Florida, a Portland, Ore., woman and two Kansas City, Mo., tavern employees.

Detectives are also attempting to see if there is a link between the family's alleged robbery expeditions and killings in Kansas and Oklahoma.

Investigators said the family wandered about the western half of the nation, the men working as ranch hands and short order cooks, the women as waitresses, and the whole family in carnivals.

Chains Fatal To Seaman, 29

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A 29-year-old seaman with a fondness for knots and being tied up was found dead Sunday in the apartment of a friend.

Homicide inspector Al Podesta said James Pickering was strangled by a light chain around his neck. He said the chain was attached to a rope which was tied to a belt looped around his feet.

Podesta said when Pickering lowered his legs, the chain tightened around his neck. He was dressed in leather trousers and jacket.

Lawrence Happ, 43, rented the apartment in which Pickering's body was found face-down on a bedroom floor.

"He liked to be tied up," Happ told police, "Chains seemed to be his sex symbol."

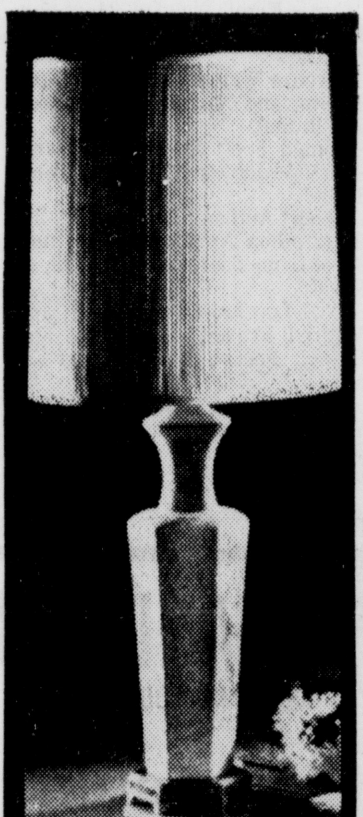

After 34 Years He's Ruled Sane

NEWARK, Ohio (UPI) — Wendell Hendricks, who was charged with murder in 1938 when he was 17 years old, has been adjudged able to stand trial now.

Hendricks, 51, has been a patient at Lima State Hospital for the Criminally Insane for the last 34 years after being ruled insane. Doctors at the hospital reported last month he had been restored to sanity and a judge here Saturday said he would go on trial next month for the killing of Finley Fry of rural Newark.

Boats Seized

SALINAS, Ecuador (UPI) — Two U.S.-owned fishing boats were seized Sunday by Ecuador authorities on grounds they unlawfully entered the country's disputed 200-mile coastal water limit, Ecuadorian maritime officials said today.

Two Guilty Pleas In Burglary Case

Two young people, including a 17-year-old girl whose case was rejected by juvenile court, pleaded guilty today in Marin Superior Court to charges stemming from several burglaries.

The girl, Deborah Bronson of San Rafael, admitted burglarizing the residence of Dr. Thomas A. Zavattero on Prospect Drive in San Rafael on July 25 and then forging his name on a stolen credit card. An additional credit card charge was dismissed in accordance with a settlement conference.

She had been told by Judge E. Warren McGuire she would receive no more than six months in jail after pleading guilty.

A companion, Richard A. Hickox, also of San Rafael, who had been charged with four burglaries including that of the Zavattero residence, pleaded guilty to two of the charges. Hickox, who also uses the last name of Puskar, was also told he would receive no more than a six-month jail term.

Miss Bronson was sent to adult court by Juvenile Court Referee Jack G. Blaine, who ruled she was not a suitable candidate for the closed juvenile proceedings.

They are to be sentenced Jan. 2.

the time we have to have it solved."

He explained that the Richmond and Concord services would open under present plans as scheduled by using a manual system to override the computer if necessary. He said the Fremont, Richmond and Concord routes would be operated as a shuttle as originally intended until the start of service across the bay, when he expected all safety problems to be solved.

Stokes said BART was using a "careful strategy" in meeting safety problems on the present service and would continue to do so when other sections were opened.

"Thus, despite the headlines proclaiming BART train control to be unsafe which followed the issuance of the analyst's report, it appears that the analyst's view coincides with our own view of the most important and immediate operational aspects of the safety issue."

In criticizing the "tone and perspective" of the analyst's report, Stokes said the report "gives the impression that the part of the system we are now operating is unsafe."

"But that is not the case, and a careful reading of the analyst's report reveals that apparently he does not think that is the case. But skewed perspective is easily translated into suspect conclusions which we must avoid."

Headquarters For Giacomini To Stay Open

Supervisor-elect Gary Giacomini announced today that his headquarters at 502 Irwin Street, San Rafael, will remain open until he takes office in January.

The new supervisor from the fourth district stated: "The headquarters will be staffed by volunteers, and I invite anyone to phone or stop by and discuss how best we can begin to implement our platform in January."

Giacomini also announced the hiring of his former campaign manager, Judy Ainsworth, to be his new administrative aide. "I pledged during my campaign to personally hire an aide to assist me in being responsive to the 24 diverse communities that lie within the 300 square miles of the fourth district. The concept of aides has worked very well in the State Legislature, and I believe it will be beneficial to the county."

Giacomini stated that Mrs. Ainsworth could be reached at his headquarters from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on weekdays.

Man Denies Stolen Property Charges

Donald Lawrence Hall, 42, of San Rafael, pleaded innocent today in Marin Superior Court to two charges of concealing stolen property and a jury trial was set for the week of Jan. 8.

Hall's arrest in September followed the nabbing of a teenager who admitted burglarizing Hall's home earlier. Among the articles the teen-ager had taken were jewelry and a typewriter taken in two burglaries in 1971.

Judge Robert F. Peckham granted them immunity from prosecution on the basis of their testimony, they continued to refuse to answer some questions for the grand jury, although they responded to a few. Peckham held them in contempt on Oct. 20.

The San Francisco witnesses were subpoenaed by Robert Dierker, a special attorney from the Justice Department's Internal Security Division. He said there had been no electronic surveillance of the men themselves and that he had no obligation to disclose illegal surveillance of attorneys.

Douglas filed a four-page dissent in the Ellsworth action, expressing regret that the Court "does not take this occasion to lay down some further ground rules for the conduct of criminal cases involving electronic surveillance in the sensitive area which involves both the fourth and sixth amendments."

The Justice Department has acknowledged that a conversation of one of the defendants' lawyers was overheard through an unauthorized wiretap. But U.S. District Judge W. Matt Byrne Jr. and the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals—after being shown the intercept—ruled it had nothing whatever to do with the Ellsberg case.

Douglas on July 19 delayed the trial of the two men until their claim could be dealt with by the high court.

Ellsberg and Russo are charged with conspiracy, theft of government property and violations of the espionage act in connection with leaking the Vietnam papers to the press in 1971. A jury had been selected and opening statements were coming up when the Douglas order was issued.

Pipe Bomb Found At DMV Office

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Staff Sgt. Lee L. Brown listened to the device tick, tick, ticking. He and his partner, Spec. 4 Wayne S. Cartwright went straight to work dismantling the pipebomb, "the trickiest kind of homemade explosive devices."

The pair of Army bomb disposal specialists spent three hours before rendering harmless the explosive device that was found early Sunday in a paper bag at the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

A state police officer found the bomb while making a regular check of the building and the Oakland police called the 87th Explosives Ordnance Disposal emergency team at San Francisco's Presidio.

Kidnap Reported By Petaluma Girl

A 16-year-old Petaluma girl told police yesterday she was kidnapped briefly by two men. The girl, Tracey Ann Cranor of 16 Sixth Street, said the men forced her into their car Saturday at 11:55 p.m. at the corner of B and Kentucky Streets. She said they drove her to a house somewhere and hit her in the stomach twice when she tried to leave. She said she was allowed to leave a short time later.

She described one of the men as black in his late 20s and the other as white in his early 30s. She said both were tall and slender.

Home Protection Will Be Discussed

A program on home protection will be presented at the Petaluma Valley Homeowners Association meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at La Tercera School.

Gary Ellis of the Petaluma Police Department will give tips on how to protect homes from burglars.

She is survived by a son,

Quarry Rezoning Before Council

The Corte Madera Planning Commission will make another stab at solving the Quarry Site rezoning problem at its meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the town hall.

On Oct. 10 the planners failed to reach agreement on what zone category to place the thickly wooded bowl behind the library on Meadowsweet Drive, American Savings and Loan Assn. have asked the 23.69 acre site be rezoned to multiple and single-family residential. Residents have protested the application saying it should be preserved as open space.

The Planning Commission also will review the proposed redevelopment plan for the town, and make the comments requested by the town council, sitting as the town's redevelopment agency at its Nov. 6 meeting.

Move Members To Be Discussed

The Larkspur Planning Commission will discuss expanding its membership from five to seven commissioners at its meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the city hall.

Also up for consideration is the city's architectural review committee, which has been inoperative in recent months for lack of members.

Public hearings on three variance applications will be held — by Dr. E. Baele, 55 Olive Street; Nora La Corte, 239 Madrone Avenue; and Dan Danielsson for 1 Owlswood.

Robert Woods of Burlingame, a daughter, Nadine Zlatunich of San Francisco, and four grandchildren.

The family prefer memorial contributions to the Hanna Boys' Center or the Cancer Fund.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Citizens Demand They Retain Control

In four states last Tuesday, voters refused to heed the siren call of "tax reformers" who urged deserting the property tax for financing public schools in favor of what they claimed would be more equitable state funding.

California voters dumped the Watson Amendment by 2-to-1. It would have sharply reduced the property tax for schools, mandating the Legislature to make up the difference from other levies.

Voters in Michigan turned down by roughly 3-to-2 a proposal to shift school support from the local property tax to the state. Those in Colorado rejected a measure very similar to the Watson Amendment to 7-to-3. In Oregon, a proposal to turn all school support over to the state went down 2-to-1.

ONE ANALYSIS of these results which we read interpreted them as meaning that people hesitate to turn from the status quo in tax structure. It predicted the courts will have to "reform" school financing.

That seems to us a rather shallow interpretation. We think rejection of the Watson Amendment in California and the other school support measures in Michigan, Colorado and Oregon has deeper significance.

Basic to all these proposals — as to most of the so-called "tax reforms" that come out of legislatures and university economics departments — is diminution of the citizen's control over how his tax money is spent.

Once schools — or welfare, or whatever other governmental service you might name — is financed from taxes collected by the state and then funneled back to local jurisdictions pursuant to some state-concocted formula, there is no way for the citizen to exercise any control of priorities.

CITIZEN CONTROL over the property tax is not what it once was. Although cities, school districts, and most other local districts are restricted by law as to the rates they can levy without specific voter approval, the law has been honeycombed with exceptions.

Thus the "maximum tax rate" voted for a school district has little meaning. There are 43 "overrides" which school boards can levy atop what the electorate has authorized — without asking anybody, and often without even telling anybody.

The cities have a much smaller list of special taxes beyond the $1 per $100 assessed valuation that applies to general law cities and the charter restrictions in charter cities. But they, too, have picked up various ways to add to the load without voter authorization, through tax tinkering by the legislature.

Nevertheless, such control over taxation as the citizen still has applies to the property tax. He has none whatever over sales, income or other state levies.

WHAT THE PEOPLE of California, Michigan, Colorado and Oregon were saying at the polls last Tuesday comes through pretty clearly to us. They were saying that they want to keep some control over how much they are taxed and for what. They don't want Big Brother in Sacramento, Lansing, Denver or Salem dictating to them.

If legislators got the message (which we doubt they did), they will quit tinkering with the tax structure for awhile and concentrate their efforts on reducing state spending.

'Environmentalists' Find Couple Of New Causes

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Arise ye sons of environmentalism, the holy, roly banner of the cause has been hoisted anew to cast its shadow over another issue!

The target this time is the Golden Gate Bridge District's Larkspur ferryboat terminal site. "New information" has been dredged up, it is claimed, that will force its relocation to Point San Quentin.

Never mind that the issue was thoroughly and openly debated long ago, that a detailed and costly study was made of all possible sites, that the district already has bought the Larkspur site for $1,250,000, or that it is about to build terminal facilities at a cost of $4.7 million.

"New information," of course, can be found daily after a public policy decision has been made.

ANYONE RUNNING to jump aboard this bandwagon should keep in mind that it is making great speed, but goes only in reverse.

Some attracted to the cause, we suspect, will aim indirectly at plans to develop the peninsula above the terminal. They would hope that by stalling or moving the terminal they could pull the economic plug on the development.

Meanwhile, construction already has begun on the first three new ferryboats. They will have no place to go unless construction of the Larkspur terminal begins as scheduled. The new fleet will be here early in 1974, and surely will be needed by then to relieve ever-tighter congestion on Highway 101.

The bus fleet is virtually at capacity, and the new ferries are the next and only immediate source of relief.

THE CAMPAIGN against the Larkspur terminal unfortunately hangs a piece of its hat on a recommendation by the county planning department that "a long-range plan to remove the ferry terminal to Point San Quentin be pursued." A department spokesman said the recommendation in the "balanced transportation plan" assumed that moving the terminal could be as many as 20 years in the future.

The planning department apparently feels it can write off a $6 million investment in public funds with a mere wave of its wand.

ENVIRONMENTALISTS — Spying an equally vital issue — also are aroused about the bridge district's use of bird repellent on the pilings at the San Francisco ferry dock. It was applied to save the cost of having workmen chip away the seagull droppings.

One of several complaining letters to the district objected that "to harass and possibly injure these birds greatly diminishes the image of the Golden Gate Transit system in its professed concern for the environment." The repellent, according to the complainers, could kill the birds if it fouled their feathers.

According to the label on the repellent, it is a clear, odorless compound "which birds find tacky and disagreeable underfoot."

These concerned citizens apparently feel their environment is better when coated with bird droppings.

THE NEEDLE

By HAROLD COFFIN

Romance may succeed where years of belligerence have failed — in breaking down the Berlin Wall.

East Germany granted 25 women permission to climb over the wall to marry their western lovers.

The official permission seems a bit retroactive, because 18 children accompanied the happy brides.

Venus may not be as powerful as Mars, but she's twice as sneaky.

At the Berlin Wall, as in the war between the sexes, fraternizing with the enemy can lead to marriage.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Hopes Fluoridation Has Been 'Put To Bed'

The battle for fluoridation was fought and won to a large extent in your "letters to the editor" columns. I want to thank you for providing the arena so generously. Also thank you for examining the material on the subject which resulted in an endorsement.

The people are the winners, even those who opposed.

This is the third time I have been involved in this water district fight to have the level of the nutrient, fluoride, corrected in our water. Yet it is incredible to me that there can be opposition to its use, much as I try to understand...

'Haunted House' Helps Children's Home Society

On behalf of the Jolly Rogers Chapter of Children's Home Society, we would like to thank the Independent Journal for excellent coverage of our ninth annual "Haunted House."

We would also like to publicly thank our sponsors and contributors who donated money, materials and time. Because of this community support from both merchants and private citizens, virtually all of our gate receipts go directly to Children's Home Society.

In addition to adoptions, CHS offers expanded services to help meet the many new demands in our society regarding child welfare. These include: counseling for unmarried pregnant women, unwed fathers, single parents and married parents of both natural and adopted children. We are proud to help make available these services which are offered to children and parents of all races, faiths and nationalities.

County's Appetite For Money Insatiable

Congratulations on your excellent editorial of Nov. 9 concerning San Rafael redevelopment. It just doesn't make sense for two governmental entities to waste the taxpayers' money in a court battle.

The city council's offer to the schools is a good deal for them. But the county is something else again. It seems that their appetite for tax money at Civic Center is insatiable. The money they would lose, if any, from the redevelopment plan wouldn't make a bubble in their total tax take.

Why, with the shrinking of the unincorporated area and need for fewer services, should county taxes continue to skyrocket?

WALTER ZUCHER

San Rafael.

Hooray For Fluorides — But Remember To Brush

Hooray for fluoridation! Thanks to the press for presenting the issue fairly and thanks to the public for studying the issue and passing this great health measure.

Let us not forget, however, that proper diet and proper tooth brushing habits are still extremely important for complete oral health.

'Peace Strikers' Seen As Communist Agents

I implore all American men and women to recognize the evil these "peace strikers" speak, the evil they do. America was built on bravery and sacrifice but it can be destroyed by cunning and cowardice, unless we act.

Communists use "peace" as a propaganda weapon. Actually, the only peace they offer loyal Americans is peace of the grave. War to the hilt between communism and capitalism is inevitable. Today, of course, we are not strong enough to attack. Our time will come. To win we shall need the element of surprise. The bourgeoisie will have to be put to sleep. So we shall begin by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record. There will be electrifying overtures and unheard-of concessions. The capitalist countries, "stupid" and decadent, will rejoice to cooperate in their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends. As soon as their guard is down, we shall smash them with our clenched fist. In the face of this and countless other proofs, they would have us plunge headlong into disarmament and disaster. They are "Deililals" who would see Uncle Samson shorn of his strength. I, too, work and pray for peace. I would gladly give my life that our country might know a just peace, a peace with honor. I know only too well that there can be no such thing as peaceful coexistence with communism. I beseech my fellow citizens, Negro, white and all races, to be alert, courageous and resolute. There are snakes in our Garden of Eden.

Americans Voting Away Their Liberty

On Nov. 7, 99 per cent of the American voters, voting for presidential candidates and certainly many other offices, knowingly or unknowingly voted for an extension of governmental control over their lives. I am reasonably sure that most of these voters did so unknowingly and not realizing the consequences of their actions. Their ignorance and/or lack of understanding the consequences of such governmental control can, in my opinion, be laid directly at the door of our public educational system.

We are told that one of the basic justifications for a public school education is to make all recipients of that educational system better and more knowledgeable citizens. The failure of this public school system to teach our youth the basic precepts of freedom and responsibility and an understanding of the "political facts of life," as well as an understanding of the life blood of our economic system, money, is to cause one to wonder just how far the taxpayers should go to support this educational system.

To be specific in regard to the recent election, all of the candidates for the office of President of the United States with the notable exception of John Schmitz of the American Independent party were asking and would (will) give the voters increased control over their lives by a central (federal) government. Freedom of the individual decreases as the power of a central government increases. When we reach the plateau of total government control over our lives, the people become slaves and it makes no difference whether it is called fascism, socialism or communism, the people are still slaves. And, incidentally, a public school education for every person was plank number ten in Karl Marx' manifesto. Where are the facts so that we can be assured it isn't happening here?

Both Parties Are Big Winners In Divided-Mandate Election

WASHINGTON — The most significant fact which emerges from the 1972 election is that both political parties won big. No party has ever lost the presidency so massively and simultaneously won Congress so decisively as the Democrats did this year.

The effects of this divided victory will be far reaching. They show themselves in these results of the Nov. 7 voting:

The nation gave Richard Nixon a momentous vote of confidence in his presidency and a landslide mandate which said "keep it up" for four more years.

But at the same time the voters gave the Democrats firm control of Congress and, in effect, a renewed mandate to be both prod and watchdog over the Nixon presidency.

Thus the voters strongly re-endorsed the Nixon administration and strongly re-endorsed the Democratic Congress which has usually been at odds with the President.

IT WAS A DOUBLE defeat for Sen. George McGovern.

In all our political history no Democratic presidential candidate has ever lost so badly. By their votes the American people thundered "no" to Senator McGovern and thundered "yes" to a continuing Democratic Congress which over the years has done nearly all the things which the senator branded as wrong and wanted to change.

The sweep of the Nixon landslide can hardly be overstated. He won a popular majority equal to anything in the past. He carried the South and the North, the East and the West. He carried New York City and McGovern's home state of South Dakota. Where McGovern campaigned longest and hardest — 13 trips to Ohio — Mr. Nixon won overwhelmingly. Apparently where Senator McGovern's views were expounded most fully, they were rejected most decisively.

THE MOST MEANINGFUL part of the Nixon victory is that it did not come only from the "unpoor, the unyoung and the unblack." Every segment of the whole electorate supported Mr. Nixon far more conclusively than four years ago. He won the rural vote, the suburban vote, the city vote, the Catholic vote, the Jewish vote, split the unemployed and youth vote down the middle. He took 40 per cent of the Democrats, 59 per cent of blue-collar workers, and increased his percentage of black supporters from 5 per cent in 1968 to 15 per cent this year.

The Nixon triumph is a nearly undivided garment. Politically the President owes everything to the many and nothing to the few.

This should contribute to his freedom of action in the White House.

THE SIZE and the significance of the Democratic victory in Congress also can hardly be overstated. In an election when their Democratic presidential nominee was a sinking, pervasive drag on the party and when the Republican nominee was amassing a popular vote like Lyndon Johnson's in 1964 and F.D.R.'s in 1936, to gain two seats in the Senate and hold Republican gains to nine in the House — less than half they expected — that, too, is a landslide achievement.

It reveals the nationwide power and resilience of the Democratic Party with a potential to take it all when it can choose a presidential candidate in its own likeness.

It does more. It casts doubt on the mandate which Mr. Nixon's huge victory would normally give him. It restricts the freedom of action of the President in ways which may not have been intended.

Mr. Nixon centered attention on this consequence quickly and frankly in his first postelection statement. He said that his landslide would be meaningless if the Congress and the President did not work together.

This is the crucial question mark which hangs over the election's double victory. Will they?

ERNEST B. FURGURSON

Less Mandate For Nixon Than Rejection Of McGovern

WASHINGTON — It should be a happy hour of self-congratulation for the theorists who have been preparing us for a mighty new majority coalition under the Republican banner. But on second thought, make it a half hour instead. Under analysis, the theory breaks down.

It was not so much a Republican victory as a Democratic defeat, and not so much a Democratic defeat as a McGovern debacle. You may think it noodling to talk about the conditional nature of such a massive landslide. But if Mr. Nixon intends to call it a popular mandate and use it for leverage to move the country on anything bold and chancy, he had better get moving today, before Congress and whoever else he needs to bluff catches on to what it really was.

THE FIRST EVIDENCE against the popular mandate notion is in the gross voting totals, which show that only about 77.5 million Americans bothered to go to the polls. That is only 56 per cent of the potential electorate, the lowest fraction to vote since 1948, when 52 per cent turned out. Those figures testify that millions were so repulsed by both presidential candidates that they just said the hell with it.

Contrasting those figures with the ones in 1964 tends to prove Mr. Nixon's high percentages across the board were due more to nonvoting Democrats than to voters swarming out to endorse his presidential record.

Eight years ago, when Barry Goldwater marched his McGovern-style crusade off in the opposite direction, the voting percentage (64) was higher than in any postwar election, as alarmed Democrats queued up to reject a dramatic swing to the right.

FURTHER PROOF is in the virtual nonexistence of presidential coattails this time. It has been noted everywhere, but analysis firms it up.

In 1964, Lyndon Johnson's margin of victory brought 38 more Democrats into the House and added two to the already lopsided Democratic majority in the Senate. The Republicans managed to gain one governorship, but lost more than 500 state legislature seats across the country.

Yet even in catastrophic defeat, Goldwater managed to break new ground for his party because of his regional appeal in the South. By associating themselves with him, Republican candidates captured a handful of House seats in the Deep South (five in Alabama alone) where the name of their party had been a cuss word in years past.

It can be argued that Mr. Nixon had at least some regional success of the same sort, because his party made surprising gains in the upper South. The very conservative Republican winners in the Virginia and North Carolina Senate races both campaigned mainly by identifying their opponents with McGovern; in North Carolina the GOP picked up a governor the same way, and the tactic worked in scattered individual House contests in the South.

Nationwide, however, the results already are familiar: In the face of the Nixon sweep, the Democrats apparently gained two seats in the Senate and held the GOP to a net increase of 15 in the House. They also won an additional state house.

THERE IS NO PROOF certain in the statistics that Mr. Nixon would have lost to any more centrist candidate put up by the Democrats. He has been smart politically, and his foreign initiatives especially have earned broad approval. It seems chintzy to insist that a victory by 25 percentage points is based purely on negative reaction to McGovern. Yet the accompanying evidence is that the Democrats remain the majority party, and that Mr. Nixon will continue to have to deal with them on that basis.

What he has received from the electorate is not a mandate, but an opportunity. Armed with a 62 per cent majority of the vote, and with his last presidential election behind him, he can afford now to gauge what needs to be done in terms other than the immediate political effect of each decision. With his own long view of world history and with advice from Dr. Kissinger's extraordinarily clear perspective, he already has moved this way on international affairs.

Now at last he has a chance to ignore short-run politics in matters close to home as well, and in doing so to leave a record that cannot be minimized by statistical nitpickers the morning after. (Copyright 1972, The Baltimore Sun.)

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By MARY LEYDECKER

Questionable Whether Death Penalty Applies To Magee

Although California voters spoke out pretty strongly in favor of restoring the death penalty in Tuesday's election, the effect of passage of Proposition 17 is not nearly so clear as was the outcome of the voting.

Lawyers seem to agree that, at present, the ultimate punishment can be applied only in cases where the death penalty is mandatory — in California, when a life prisoner kills a non-prisoner and in three more obscure categories.

The reason for this is that the U.S. Supreme Court said the death penalty cannot be applied in a "capricious manner" and leaving complete discretion to a judge or a jury, as is the case in California in first degree murder cases, gives no guidelines.

It is generally believed, however, that the legislature could now add to the list of crimes for which capital punishment is mandatory.

What really becomes fuzzy, though, is the area of cases now pending in court.

One such involved Ruchell Magee, the San Quentin convict who was once Angela Davis's codefendant and who is still awaiting trial in connection with the August, 1970 shoot-out at the Civic Center.

Some lawyers argue that since the California Supreme Court earlier this year declared the death penalty unconstitutional (a position reversed by the election) there was no death sentence until Tuesday's election.

If capital punishment only became constitutional after the proposition passed, then, the argument goes, such people as Magee are not subject to it.

This whole question is one more matter for Albert W. Harris Jr., prosecutor in the long-running case, to research.

ANOTHER POST-ELECTION note on a lighter vein. Theory devised while listening to endless controversy over proposed developments in Marin: the logic of some so-called environmentalists is the same as that of the people who drafted the marijuana initiative.

That proposal would have made it illegal to sell pot but okay to possess it — a logic that seems mind-boggling. In the same vein, many conservationists, none of whom live in tents, seem to think it's all right to possess a house or apartment but evil to build them.

ONE I-J STAFF member, who headed to the polls early to get her vote cast before work, ran into another boggler.

Stepping into a booth in her polling place at a church, she started to remove two Baptist hymnals which were on top of the voting mechanism.

"Oh, no," she was firmly told by an election official. "Don't move those. They're all I could find to show the booth is out of order."

The staff member suggested a sign saying "out of order," might be more of a clue than the hymnals — and possibly less insulting to the Baptists.

MELVIN MADDOCKS

It's Much More Than Just Matter Of 'Make Mine Vanilla'

Around the table wait four unlabeled quart cartons, four silver spoons, and four salivating palates. Clearly it is time for the all-American vanilla ice-cream test.

Suspense runs so high that the connoisseurs before the camera commit the ultimate TV crime of dead air. Nothing is heard but the slap-slap of tongue against frozen cream, followed by an occasional thoughtful "Uh-huh—" or even an irrepressible "Mmm!"

Which vanilla is the coldest, the creamiest, the vanilla-est? The TV-tasters answer shall remain unrecorded here, like the Consumer Reports answer to the same delicious question. For there really should be no official, stamp-of-approval verdict. On the subject of ice cream every man, woman, and child is an expert — and do they know it these days.

ICE CREAM, to mix metaphorical temperatures, has become one of the hottest topics of conversation in the U.S. Men who will smile when their political judgment is questioned will tolerate no criticism of their vote for Schrafft's chocolate, Howard Johnson's frozen pudding, or Louis Sherry's strawberry.

The popularity of ice cream with Americans is hardly new. "We dare not trust our wit for making our home pleasant to our friend so we buy ice cream," Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote well over a hundred years ago. All their lives Americans have put away ice cream — an estimated 23 quarts of ice cream, ice milk, and sherbert per American stomach per year. Or enough frozen dessert, as one wildly imaginative mathematician has estimated, to fill Grand Canyon with all those 400-plus flavors consumed, including sauerkraut sherbert and persimmon ice cream.

What is new is that Americans are now taking ice cream seriously — the way Frenchmen take their pastry, the way Italians take their pasta. Hicks in New York, Bailey's in Boston, Wil Wright's in Los Angeles — the places people used to go for simple fun — have now become shrines for devotees. Erudite comments fill the air about a cream being too "airy" or too "dense," too "bland" or too "grainy."

And, of course, if one's carping gets too huffy, one gets off one's stool and buys a home freezer, a big item nowadays for stores as different as Sears, Roebuck and Abercrombie & Fitch. (Thomas Jefferson had his own recipe for homemade ice cream — as for everything else — involving 18 steps.)

THE INTELLECTUAL ice-cream eater's newspaper, the Village Voice, reserved top-of-the-page space for the question: Should chemicals be added to ice cream to keep cones from dripping? The Voice's answer, dripping itself with nostalgia: No. What is a cone without those frantic licks — that lovely losing battle — up the sides? Further recognition: "The Guinness Book of World Records" lists in all its molded majesty the world's largest sunday — 600 pounds of ice cream, topped by 34 quarts of chocolate sauce and 153 ounces of chopped nuts, all yours at your neighborhood Baskin-Robbins for bargain $720.

THE SOVIET FRONT

The Barrier—Ideological Exchange

By LEO GRULIOV
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

MOSCOW — Heads of state from abroad, foreign ministers, and international businessmen have been streaming into Moscow this year as rarely before. Cultural and scientific exchanges have been equally lively.

But in all this flowering of peaceful co-existence, there is one aspect of foreign contact that remains barred. It is ideological exchange.

Vadim K. Sobakin, a young professor of jurisprudence, spelled out the Soviet stand in New Times magazine last week.

The policy of peaceful co-existence, he said, aimed at preventing war and subversion and at encouraging contact, but does not deny the existence of continuing ideological warfare. Westerners who think that only Pravda deals in ideology are nurturing an illusion, he declared, citing not only the existence of Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty, which broadcast to Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union, but also — out of context — columnist James Reston's critical view of the use of media in the American elections.

Sobakin warned that the Communist bloc must be vigilant against ideological infiltration through exchanges of people and information.

When Americans think of exchange of ideas, they are apt to conceive of it as ideally a free and untrammelled flow. The Soviet Union encourages cultural exchange, but insists that it be carefully regulated.

The desire of Western countries to enlarge the exchange of people, ideas, and information and the Soviet Union's firm refusal to "open the borders" to unrestricted exchanges are likely to clash at the preliminary meeting for the European security conference.

This meeting, which opens in Helsinki Nov. 22, is to draft the agenda for the conference. Sobakin accuses the NATO countries of planning to demand concessions from the Communist lands in order to "open the borders" to "monstrosities of bourgeois culture and misinformation."

A decade ago, when cultural exchanges were new, Americans placed high hopes on them as meeting grounds for divergent ideas. At that time a New York publisher planned to issue a magazine to print, side by side, the contrasting views of Soviet and American writers about the problems of their respective societies.

But it soon became apparent that the hope of an uninhibited exchange of ideas was unlikely to blossom, and the project was dropped. American newspaper editors asked the right of free sale of some of their papers in Moscow on a reciprocal basis — Soviet newspapers circulate freely in the United States — and were turned down.

An occasional limited exchange of individual articles occurs, as well as a government-approved exchange of stage performers. But the exchange which overshadows all today is in the realm of science, technology and business.

The businessmen and technicians are apt to provide the real exchange of ideas in the future. So if you are planning to start a journal of cultural exchange, make it a magazine of science, technology, or trade, where hard self-interest dictates cooperation on both sides. Meantime, you can enjoy the Bolshoi Ballet in New York and the New York City Ballet in Moscow — as long as they don't tangle with conflicting social or political ideas.

What do doctors recommend for patients in pain?

Doctors all over the country dispense over 50,000,000 of these tablets to their patients each year.

There are many medications a physician or dentist can prescribe for pain. Some are narcotic, many are available only on prescription. But there is one pain reliever, available without prescription, doctors dispense again and again... Anacin.

Each year, doctors give over 50,000,000 Anacin tablets to their patients in pain. If doctors think enough about Anacin to dispense all these tablets, what better recommendation can you ask when you are in pain?

You see, Anacin contains more of the pain reliever doctors recommend more than any other leading tablet.

Headache and dental pain is relieved incredibly fast; minor pains of arthritis are dependably eased for hours; even the aches and pains of colds and flu respond to Anacin. So the tension and depression that can be caused by such pain will be relieved too. And millions take Anacin without stomach upset.

When you're in pain, why don't you follow the practice of so many doctors and take the tablet a doctor might give you in his own office. Take Anacin.

Trees Will Be Planted At Lake

More than 1,200 redwoods, alders and other varieties of trees are to be planted next Saturday morning around Nicasio Lake by about 200 Boy Scouts in the kick-off of a 10-year program.

Robert A. Roumiguere, chairman of the Nicasio Lake Conservation Project, said that the Marin Council of Boy Scouts of America, Marin County Board of Realtors and the Marin Municipal Water District are cooperating in the project.

Treeless and shrubless now, the shores of the lake are planned for a park of the future, he said. More than 200,000 trees eventually are to be planted.

At noon there will be a dedication ceremony on the north shore of the lake one mile west of Nicasio School. A brown bag lunch will follow.

Permit Sought For Storm Drain Pumping Station

The San Rafael Department of Public Works has applied for an Army Corps of Engineers permit to construct a storm drain pumping station in East San Rafael, near Highway 17.

A spokesman said the pumping station, a small concrete structure, will be used to pump storm water from low-lying areas, including Highway 17 and Francisco Boulevard.

Persons who wish to object to the project on the basis of conservation, aesthetics, flood damage prevention or other such grounds may write to the Corps of Engineers, 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco 94102, by Nov. 29.

Four Trying To Help Motorist Killed By Auto

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (UPI) — Four persons trying to help the victim of an auto accident died early Sunday when another car smashed into the wreckage and flipped over.

Police said the survivors remembered the "screaming and thumping of bodies," but few other details of the accident. The man who ran into the pole was critically injured originally, but he survived the second accident.

Five other persons were injured.

National Stamp Collecting Week

To honor National Stamp Collecting Week, a commemorative showing a reproduction of the first U.S. stamp is scheduled to be issued this week. Since stamp collecting appeals to all age and economic groups, it has been called "the hobby of kids and kings." Soon after the first stamps were issued in England in 1840, fashionable women began using them for decorating bedrooms, screens, and candy bowls. Educators realize the value of collecting stamps in teaching geography. A stamp collection can also bring profit. The most valuable stamp was issued in British Guiana in 1856. One hundred years later it was valued at about $100,000.

DO YOU KNOW — Which 20th Century U.S. President was an avid stamp collector?

Computer Tabs Welfare Fraud

By LARRY MOWELL

A busy computer working since May in Sacramento has almost doubled the number of Marinites being investigated for welfare fraud.

That had news for welfare cheats is tempered by the limited breadth of the computer search and the possibility it again may become entangled in court challenges, according to Deputy Dist. Atty. Milton M. Hyams.

Supplementing the haphazard suspicions of citizens and busy welfare workers with the hard data of the Earnings Clearance System has raised the average number of cases referred to his office from eight to 14 a month, Hyams said.

Criminal charges have increased fourfold over the five or six prosecutions in 1971, Hyams said.

Hyams, aided by two investigators, handles all Marin welfare prosecutions submitted by the Marin office of the Department of Social Services.

Most spectacular local fruit of the computer scrutiny has been the discovery that a 27-year-old Hayward woman using the name Lia Culcleasure Stahlrite may have received $3,523 in unwarranted aid from Marin between January, 1971, and September.

The computer burst that bubble when it detected her social security number in use for aid both in San Francisco and Marin, according to Hyams.

Miss Stahlrite's number overlap was not the only discrepancy found, Hyams said. "Our referrals have skyrocketed. It is more than we can handle," he said.

When the computer went to work, Hyams said, he had a backlog of 32 cases awaiting investigation. That number since has swelled to 64 of Marin's approximately 2,400 aid recipients, he said.

But, despite its early success as a statewide snoop, the computer at the state Department of Human Resources Development is not a panacea for welfare fraud, according to Hyams.

All the machine does is compare the social security numbers of Californians on Aid to Families with Dependent Children against those for whom employers submit unemployment insurance.

If the recipient has earnings or a social security number on file in more than one welfare department, the state alerts the affected county.

But the computer detects only those cheating to obtain aid for children and it doesn't catch all of those, Hyams said.

It can't catch cheating government employees because no unemployment insurance is paid for them, he said. Nor can it catch recipients also receiving federal benefits or having unreported bank accounts, personal property or dwellings, he said.

It won't even catch the determined cheater who uses a different social security number for each welfare application, Hyams said.

These drawbacks haven't been the system's biggest stumbling blocks though. Made law by the state Institutional and Welfare Reform Act in October 1971, it was tied up in court until May.

The Golden Gate Welfare Rights Association challenged the computer watchdog, but the state Court of Appeal ruled it violated no constitutional provision.

Hyams said there may be another challenge because the voters Tuesday added the right of privacy to the state constitution.

Despite its drawbacks, the Earnings Clearance System will have salutary effects, Hyams said. "It is going to cut down a lot on your marginal cheater — a cheater whose heart is not in it. People who deliberately set out to defraud the system are going to do it notwithstanding," he said.

The computer, on the other hand, watches everyone receiving aid for children so more possible violations are uncovered, he said.

Toy Collectors Swap Meet Set

The Bay Area Toy Collectors' show and swap meet is scheduled for 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Nov. 26 at San Rafael High School.

Toys, dolls, trains and antique toys will be on display, some of them available for swapping.

Lagunitas Trustees To Review Policies

The Lagunitas School District board will review district policies, including the subject of physical punishment for poorly behaved youngsters, at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at San Geronimo School.

Audrey Miller, clerk of the board, said the district which in the past allowed physical punishment under certain conditions, has no policy regarding the matter at present.

Over 30 Years Experience in Nutrition
HERE'S HEALTH!
by JUNE EMBURY

After a 3 year search, we've found it! — Dr. Benjamin S. Frank's nutritional face cream with nucleic acid. It's "so natural, it must be kept refrigerated." According to the New York physician, his formula doesn't make the skin look younger, "it actually makes the skin younger." Customers have been asking us for Dr. Frank's remarkable cream after reading articles in Prevention magazine. It's said to reduce wrinkles, bags around eyes and jowls, large pores and to clear up acne, even psoriasis.

We finally discovered that a southern California firm is now associated with Dr. Frank and distributing his Nutritional Face Cream as well as other skin and hair preparations formulated by the physician. We're trying the products with great enthusiasm and the belief that we have something unique and exciting available for our lovely customers.

Final Vote Matched Early Polls

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sargent Shriver believes the average American voter decided as early as the Democratic National Convention last July to support President Nixon for re-election.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate pointed out Sunday that he and Sen. George S. McGovern ended up with about the same percentage of the vote as polls gave them in July—35 to 40 per cent. The split in the election was 61 per cent for Nixon and 38 per cent for McGovern.

"And from what it would appear to me at least that the American public had made up its mind—even way back at that point—about Sen. McGovern's candidacy, because apparently all the speeches I gave, all the things we did together, the issues that developed—all of those things didn't change the general overall picture maybe more than 1 or 2 percentage points," Shriver said.

Shriver was interviewed by U.S. News and World Report.

Nixon also made a statement for the magazine. He said that "part of our American tradition is that when the election is over, we again close ranks to move forward together."

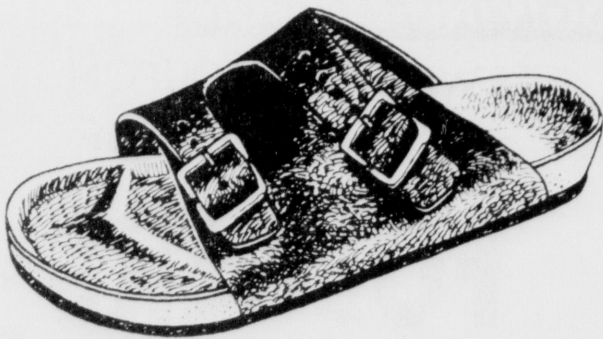

Four Cities To Host Chinese Acrobats

NEW YORK (UPI) —Four U.S. cities will host the Shenyang Acrobatic Troupe, an entourage of 55 acrobats, jugglers, and magicians, next month when they become the first theatrical group from the China to tour the United States.

The troupe, who specialize in traditional Chinese acrobatic acts, will perform in Chicago, Indianapolis, New York and Washington, according to spokesmen for the National Committee on U.S.-China relations.

Women's Lib In Denmark

By BETTY FROST

"In Denmark we realize that women had legal rights, but not real equality. Now we know we also have to change the minds of people," said Grethe Moller over luncheon at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito Thursday.

The petite 30-year-old blonde is vice president of the Danish Women's Society, a national organization founded in 1871. For the past 10 years the society has been concentrating on equal rights for women in all aspects of their lives.

Grethe is a lawyer, and works for her government's international division of labor and social welfare. She also ran for a seat in the unicameral Danish Parliament. She lost her bid, in what would be comparable to our primary election, to one of her former law professors at the University of Copenhagen.

SHE ATTENDED Hamline University in St. Paul, Minn., for one year after her graduation from secondary school in Copenhagen. She notices a great change among her American college friends since their student days 10 years ago.

"The women's liberation movement had not started in the United States at that time," Miss Moller said. "My friends tried to talk me out of studying law. In the evenings they used to sing a little song that ended, 'I want to get married and that is that.' Now in the United States I see a real change in attitude about career opportunities and women's rights."

Her work with the Danish Women's Society is extra-curricular, and keeps her busy attending meetings, sometimes as many as three a day. She has also been a delegate to international women's conferences.

THE CONFLICT in roles for women is her great concern. "Women have succeeded in getting the same role as men in careers, but the role of men has not changed," she said, indicating that in Denmark husbands do not share household responsibilities.

"Whatever a woman does is wrong. If she has a successful career, she is a bad mother. If she settles for the traditional housekeeping role, she finds life dull, and education wasted," said the attorney.

The dichotomy is further pointed up by the example of one of Grethe's friends, a 61-year-old woman who has a very important post in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs for the Danish government. "This woman," she said, "travels all over the world independently, but when she is invited to a family party, it is considered inappropriate for her to come alone."

She equates sexual freedom for Scandinavian women with economic freedom. With the availability of the birth control pill, an increasing number of Danish women choose to live with a man without marriage, and continue their careers.

SOME STATISTICS point up the situation for women in Denmark. Fifty per cent of married women work and almost all of the unmarried women. However, most women remain on the lower rung of the career ladder, as typists, clerks and in service jobs, such as hairdressers.

Hawaiian Women Remain Skeptical Over Equal Rights

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii's women remain skeptical of their rights, even though the state legislature was the first to ratify the women's rights amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

They trace their skepticism back to the early 19th Century and a 6-foot, 300-pound woman named Kaahumanu. This strapping female won women's rights but then "blew it all when the missionaries came," said Barbara Milz, president of the Honolulu chapter of the National Organization for Women.

The situation in Kaahumanu's day would rankle any women's advocate. Members of the fairer sex were forbidden to eat pork, bananas and coconuts. And never were they to eat at the same table as men. The Hawaiians called those kapus, or taboos, punishable by death. You might also call it discrimination.

Kaahumanu, the wife of the King Kamehameha I, changed that. After her husband's death, she persuaded his son Kamehameha II, to share the throne. The amazon became Kuhina Nui — sort of prime minister.

For Soft Bread

If sourdough bread gets hard after a day or two, unwrap and put bread in a plastic bag with damp paper towels.

GRETHE MOLLER, vice president of the nation-wide Danish Women's Society, discussed the problems of the women's liberation movement in her country over luncheon at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito, Thursday. The Danish woman, an attorney, spent three weeks visiting the Bay Area. (Independent Journal photo by Jim Keon)

There are few women executives. Eighteen per cent of the members of parliament are women. About 25 per cent of the doctors are women. There is one woman member of the Danish delegation to the United Nations. One-third of the law students are girls.

In Denmark, according to the visitor, incomes are taxed 50 per cent to pay for a variety of services from medical care to the operation of theaters. It is estimated that within 15 years most of the labor market will be employed in the public sector. Studies by the women's organization suggest that married women will supply the labor pool for the private sector to provide continued economic growth for the nation.

The Danish Women's Society is conducting studies on education, equal pay for women, day care centers, availability of part-time jobs, abortion and revision of the marriage laws.

"If they are to succeed," Grethe said, "women must have power and a sense of their own worth as individuals. At the age of 18 girls should ask themselves 'what kind of a life do I want when I'm 50?'"

HER OWN family background is traditional. Miss Moller's father is a businessman with a department store in Copenhagen. When she had finished her final examinations at secondary school, Grethe jubilantly went to her father to share the good news. "He was happy for me," she said, "and suggested that I spend a year of two traveling abroad. But my mother said, 'Grethe, this is just a first step. Now you can go on with your education.'"

While studying law in Copenhagen, she did manage some travel, too, spending three months each summer, as an airline hostess with Scandinavian Air Service.

Her three weeks in the Bay Area were described as "just a holiday", although she tried to talk with local leaders in the women's movement to share ideas.

The Danish woman had some kind words to say about the Bay Area, which she finds has "an international, tolerant atmosphere, as well as a nice climate. It would be easy to stay here."

During her San Francisco stay, she spent a day in Sausalito and also visited Dr. Roberta Mohit in Belvedere.

Bleichers Return From Europe Trip

By MOLLY MARIN

After six weeks in Europe, Capt. and Mrs. A.C. Bleicher have returned to their home in Mill Valley. The trip combined business and pleasure. Capt. Bleicher is a shipping executive.

They toured the Peloponnese Peninsula to its southernmost tip in a small car on primitive roads, visiting ancient Corinth and Sparta. They also visited Stockholm and London.

The Bleichers entertained for houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Ari Gruberg of New York City, at a small dinner Saturday.

MR. AND MRS. Jack Armes of Greenbrae will be guests of honor Saturday night at a party at their home in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary. Hosts will be the couple's daughters, Mrs. Timothy Balderrama of San Rafael and Debby Armes of Greenbrae.

The couple was married Nov. 15, 1947, in Reno, Nev.

ONE HUNDRED friends were invited to attend the one-man showing of oil paintings done by Frances Williams at the former location of Mayer's in Mill Valley Thursday evening. The artist is the wife of Lauren Williams of Sausalito and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Oman of Mill Valley. Lauren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Williams of Mill Valley.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School and Mills College, Frances received the master's degree in art from the University of California at Davis. She has a studio in Sausalito. She spent a year in Italy as an exchange student in the American Field Service Program.

Directional Center Is Established

SEATTLE — Many women are not fulfilled, though they have "what society says they should want — two kids, two cars and a nice home," says Alene Morris.

She and three other women began the Individual Development Center here to assist women who need directional help.

"A lot of us are still living with decisions we made when we were 18 to 22 years old, yet there are other times in our lives when we can take new directions. Many of us do not take responsibility for our lives. We react rather than direct," said a colleague, psychologist Mary Lou Hunt.

The women assist others to assess their goals through individual talks and classes.

while at Tamalpais High School. The opportunity to study abroad had a great influence on her decision to study art.

Mrs. Williams' aunt and uncle, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Lauer of Everett, Wash., attended the exhibit. Coffee and refreshments were served.

HOME FROM an eight-day cruise to Vancouver and the Pacific Northwest are Mr. and Mrs. Roland Fontana of Novato. The couple sailed aboard the Prudential-Grace Liner which has just inaugurated regular cruises from California to the Northwest.

LOUISE V. BOYLE of San Anselmo is returning from a Caribbean cruise which included visits to the ports of Acapulco, Balboa, Aruba, Martinique and San Juan. Miss Boyle departed from Los Angeles and completed her cruise, which was highlighted with a daylight passage through the Panama Canal, in Port Everglades, Fla.

THE GRAND BALLROOM of the St. Francis Hotel was the site of last Saturday's Autumn Carousell Dinner and Dance presented by the San Francisco Auxiliary of the Florence Crittenton Home and Services. Tiburon and Belvedere guests were Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence K. Kim, and Messrs. and Mmes. Lee O. Snyder Jr., Michael Ansel, Jasper Strandgaard and Thomas Flemming Jr. Mrs. Mark Lee Caton II was fund raising event chairman.

THE MARIN Yacht Club held its annual meeting and dinner dance Saturday at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club.

CONTESSA ANGELA Desideri, a former Tiburon resident, was a recent visitor in Marin for several days. The Contessa now resides in Reno, Nev.

LOST YOUR faith in human nature? During a matinee of "The Visit" at the San Francisco Opera House, Mr. and Mrs. W. Robert Herrel of Mill Valley discovered that Mrs. Herrel's jade and pearl bracelet was missing. Searching and inquiries proved fruitless. However by Monday morning the lost and found of the Opera House was able to tell her that the valuable bracelet had been turned in.

HELEN HELP US!

Weekend Sports Fan Would Like Wife With Him In Front Of TV

DEAR HELEN:
I gather from your not-so-veiled remarks that you are not a Television-weekend + Monday sports fan. (Small correction: Love demolition derbies; snow, ice and water sports; dis-love football and similar weekend hazards. — H.) Why don't you enroll in one of those college extension courses designed to teach women how to enjoy so-called "men's sports"? Then you could enjoy along with your husband.

I am trying to encourage my wife along those lines but she is resistive. Why are you women so darn stubborn? — ARM-CHAIR ATHLETE
DEAR A.A.:

Because a college sports-appreciation course might teach us more than we really want to know about those time-eating televised games.

Look friend, you shouldn't force football on your wife any more than she should force Julia Child or Dr. Welby on you. After all, television togetherness isn't a No. 1 requisite for marital bliss — unless Television is the only thing you do together. — H.

DEAR HELEN:
Shame on the stepfather who wouldn't let his wife's son have between-meals snacks. Doesn't he know that growing boys require about 3800 calories a day, whereas a sedentary man needs no more than 2500?

Maybe a calorie counting book would knock some sense in his head. — MOTHER OF TEENAGE BOYS
DEAR HELEN:

I feel for "Wit's End," whose husband won't let her sons near the refrigerator. I have a similar problem, but from a different angle.

My husband checks out the cupboards and refrigerator each morning, also the garbage can. The minute he comes home, he does another check and if anything is missing from one and added to the other, I'm accused of feeding my relatives, friends, or myself! I can't even give my mother a soft drink when she occasionally visits me, yet he can drop $100 at the race track and it's "just the breaks."

He never takes me anywhere or buys me anything, even dresses. I have a chance for a job, but he says if I step one foot out of the house and am not there to bake his bread and fix his fancy Italian meat sauces I can keep going. He makes this stick by not even leaving me 25 cents for carfare. What should I do? — BAREFOOT BUT NOT PG, THANK GOODNESS
DEAR BNPTG:

Make an appointment for the job interview, borrow carfare, and take one giant step for womankind! — H.

DEAR HELEN:
My husband's brother, age 18, is spending the year with us, working as a carpenter's helper. I like the kid, but Helen, he's a slob!

He takes a shower no more than once a week, never brushes his teeth, doesn't even wash when he gets up in the morning. His hair is a disaster, and so are his clothes. He sleeps in his underwear and only changes after his occasional bath. I can't even sneak his dirty shorts out, as he always has them on.

I finally took matters in my own hands (as my husband didn't want to embarrass him). Last week I told him there were some things on the staircase for him. I left deodorant, soap, toothpaste, mouthwash and clean underwear there. His reply was, "Do I have to use all these things?" I nearly died; was stunned to silence. So what do I do now? — NOSE PLUGGED
DEAR N.P.:

You made a good start, but you didn't carry it through: both you and your husband should make it clear that if certain standards of cleanliness aren't met, Bub can take his bathlessness elsewhere. You'll be doing him a favor! — H.

Some Recreation Tips For Children

Busing creates controversy as an issue, but Vogue writer Natalie Schram suggests that suburban mothers chip in and minibus their children to the big city for recreation. Recommending entertainment for the children, she suggests wrapping up a picnic lunch in a kerchief and sending off the children with a couple of adults in a minibus to explore the city for a day.

Answers To Questions On Trusts And Wills

By JOSEPHINE RIPLEY
The Christian Science Monitor

Dollars and Sense responds to the following inquiries:

What constitutes a trust? What is a living trust? Is a living trust both revocable and nonrevocable? Why are lawyer's or administrator's fees so high? Why are most trusts so expensive that the wage earner cannot use them advantageously?

T.A.W., RICHARDSON, TEX.

A trust is a legal instrument by which property or other assets are placed in the hands of a bank or third person (trustee) for the benefit of a named beneficiary.

A living or inter vivos trust is one created during the individual's lifetime — and not by a will.

A revocable trust is one that can be changed at any time by the one who established it. Under a nonrevocable trust, the assets that are placed in that trust immediately pass out of the possession of the one creating it. He has no control over them, nor are they a part of his estate. Thus he is no longer liable for any taxes on the assets represented in this trust.

As to an executor's fee, this is usually set by state statute and figured at a certain percentage of the estate. This fee includes compensation for probating the will, safeguarding the assets of the estate and distributing them, paying bills against the estate, making a final accounting, defending the estate against suits by creditors or others, etc.

Trustees' fees vary. Most banks, for instance, have a minimum fee, which may vary from $300 to $500. Banks in large cities like New York or Chicago usually have a higher minimum of $1,000. In a large estate where more expertise and work are involved, the fee is naturally higher.

EXPLAIN A marital trust and its advantages as far as taxes are concerned.

W.P.S., EDINA, MINN.

A marital trust is a trust set up for the benefit of a wife or husband, most frequently for the protection and convenience of a wife. It eliminates the mechanical details of outright ownership of property and record keeping. These day-to-day financial problems are shifted to the trustee.

Where property is left outright to a wife, it will be taxable in her estate for federal estate tax purposes. A trust that qualifies for marital deduction has important financial advantages for the wife. Where an estate does not exceed $120,000, federal estate taxes would be eliminated due to the marital trust. If the estate exceeds that amount, one-half would go to the wife tax free and only the other one-half would be subject to federal estate taxes.

I AM A widow with a small estate. I have named a beneficiary on my insurance policies, my government bonds, savings and checking accounts. The deed of the house in which I live with my daughter and son-in-law and on which I made the down payment is made out in the names of all three of us.

I would like to know if a will is necessary in view of all this? MRS. E. M., ST. LOUIS, MO.

Even though you have made all these arrangements for the disposition of your property, a will in which you name an executor and give that executor authority to handle the disposition of your estate in accordance with your plans would cover any emergencies that might arise.

Practically all legal authorities advise the making of a will no matter how many steps have been taken to dispose of property otherwise.

I SHOULD like to know if a holographic will is legal. MRS. W.W.S., SAN DIEGO, CALIF.

A holographic will, written by the individual himself in his own handwriting and without witnesses, is legal in some states and under some conditions.

In California, a will that is entirely in the testator's handwriting and signed and dated by him is valid, under Section 53 of the Probate Code.

WITH RESPECT to the importance of witnessing the signing of a will, I have been told of a will that was voided in court because one of the witnesses admitted he had not actually looked on at the time of the signing.

If this is the case concerning the importance of witnessing then perhaps the readers of your column should be informed of it.

E.G.C., CHICAGO, ILL.
The signing and witnessing of a will is a formal and not a social occasion.

A will should be signed in the presence of the necessary number of witnesses (depending on the laws of the state in which it is made). They are there to witness the signature and they attest to that fact as they sign in the presence of the maker of the will and in the presence of each other and at his request.

With respect to disposing of personal property in a list to be attached to your will, my lawyer says such a list should be notarized like the will.

G.M.S., BALTIMORE, MD.
This is an extra precaution and if your lawyer advises it be taken, by all means follow his advice.

WITH RESPECT to a mortgage note under which I granted a $10,000 mortgage on a house which I sold, the mortgage note was made out to "bearer" instead of in my name. I have been concerned about this, for my name does not appear anywhere on the note.

S.E.T., WAUKEGAN, ILL.
It would be desirable to have the note made out to you in your name. If for some reason that cannot be done, the next best thing would be to place the note in your safe deposit box where only you can get it. In that case the note really should be considered a part of your estate and payable to it.

Ombudsman For Prisons Receives All The Gripes

By MICHAEL W. FEDO
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

ST. PAUL, Minn. — "you call this fair?" the 45-year-old inmate bellowed, his face reddening.

"I got a longer sentence hanging over my head for robbery than a guy they just sent up for first-degree murder. How come?"

Theatrice Williams, the man to whom the convict was complaining at the Minnesota state penitentiary at Stillwater, remained calm in the prison's visitors' lounge.

"There would appear to be a discrepancy," he replied. "We'll check it out and get back to you as soon as we can."

Momentarily mollified, the convict returned to his cell, and Williams (who prefers to be called "T") spent another hour listening to more inmate complaints.

He was only doing his job. Last July, Williams assumed a unique position as the state's "ombudsman for corrections." In this capacity he provides inmates at each of the nine correctional facilities in the state a channel for complaints of abuse or unfair treatment.

His office was initially proposed by commissioner of corrections David Fogel, and the University of Minnesota Law School department of criminal justice helped draft the idea shortly after the Attica prison uprising. Writers of the proposal cited the need for outlets for inmate grievances outside the department of corrections.

Though the ombudsman concept has been tried elsewhere in the U.S., it has had little success — either because it was within the department of corrections (Pennsylvania), or the ombudsman was himself an inmate elected by other prisoners (Washington). In these cases the ombudsman could not earn inmates' confidence or he had no power of authority.

Fogel maintains that the Minnesota office — which is independent of his department — has teeth and therefore can be more responsive to complaints. "We can't expect miracles, but the fact of ignoring inmate grievances has gone on far too long."

Since the Minnesota experiment began, other states, including Michigan, Missouri, Illinois and Georgia, have started making inquiries into the ombudsman program, and indications are that their programs, if implemented, may be patterned after this one.

The office was created by Gov. Wendell Anderson but is temporarily supported by federal funds under the Law Enforcement Assistance Act. The state legislature is expected to provide continued funding when the grant runs out next year.

Williams — with a deputy and two field assistants — serves an adult and juvenile inmate population of about 2,500.

In its brief existence, the office has received 115 complaints. While most have not yet been acted on, several decisions have involved policy changes within an institution. "The main one would be getting the parole board to specify in writing why parole is denied," Williams said. "Too often a prisoner is told that his attitude is bad. That's no real reason. He should be told explicitly how his attitude should change."

Williams admitted that not all decisions have been to the inmate's benefit. "The fact is, he may be wrong. Maybe our telling him that, rather than a guard or prison official, will help him see where he's wrong."

After receiving a complaint, Williams conducts an investigation, usually requiring about two or three weeks. A recommendation is made, though corrections officers are not bound to accept the recommendations.

"Certainly we're aware of the problems of running a penal institution," Williams said. "And we aren't going to try to t the whole establishment. But if our suggestions aren't accepted, we are advised in writing. Should we reject the reasons for rejection, we can always approach the governor. I would hope, however, that we wouldn't have to use this channel very often."

"In the main," said Williams, "we are trying to see to it that prisoners are confined in as humane a way as possible."

Complaints may reach the ombudsman through uncensored letters from institutions, personal interviews at the prisons or through the intervention of a third party.

Typical complaints received thus far include abuse from a guard, racial and religious discrimination, lack of vocational opportunities or curtailing of activities of special interest group.

Some inmates believe their complaints aren't processed fast enough; other are disillusioned when decisions go against them.

"We're often caught in the middle between the hard-liners who believe prisoners should be punished or left to rot in their cells, and the inmates who believe they're being abused," Williams said.

"Certainly we aren't anticipating that the penal system will do an about-face. The public just isn't ready for sweeping reform. It's necessary to deal with inmate grievances, and here at least, there's hope for progress."

Freighter Hesitated —Captain Pentagon Studying Military Closures

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UPI) — The captain of a freighter which struck a bridge, plunging 10 persons to their death, testified at a Coast Guard hearing today the huge vessel "hesitated" and may have been turned the wrong way just moments before the accident.

"I noticed the ship hesitate," said Capt. Frank Stanejko, 49, of Bridgeport, Conn. "That was the wrong move. The ship never should have hesitated."

Stanejko was among the first witnesses to testify about the ramming of the Sidney Lanier Bridge at Brunswick, Ga., last Tuesday night. The crash toppled a 450-foot section of the drawbridge and trucks, cars and their occupants plunged into the Brunswick River.

Earlier, chief mate F.J. Johanson, 57, told how he received an order to drop one anchor just before the 11,500-ton freighter hit the bridge.

He said he had gone out on the wing of the bridge to determine the clearance for his vessel through the drawbridge opening when he noticed the "hesitation" and returned to the wheelhouse. At that time, Stanejko said, the pilot and a new helmsman were arguing.

He said he thought the pilot said "you had the wrong rudder on her" and when it became apparent that the vessel would strike the abutment, "I can remember running to the bridge and shouting 'drop the anchor.'"

Johansson said the ship was loaded with about 420 tons, mostly insecticides, and was "rather light" but he felt at the time of the order to drop one anchor, "we were proceeding normally."

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Pentagon is studying the possibility of closing or curtailing operations of several military and naval bases next year to lower the defense budget, it was learned today.

Informed sources said none of the cutback plans are firm at this time. But they predicted there would be some reductions early next year, and larger ones after the next fiscal year begins July 1, 1973.

Sources said the most immediate way to achieve the cuts would be a reduction in the size of the armed forces. There are now about 2.3 million men in uniform, some 1.2 million less than the Vietnam War peak.

Later reductions likely will involve civilian employees of the Pentagon and either the closure or reduction in the scope of operations of some military and naval bases, they said.

Informants said the Defense Department expects to be asked to take a 10 per cent across-the-board cut in manpower costs as its part of staying below the $250 billion federal spending ceiling set by

Japanese Plans World Tour In Small Boat

TOKYO (UPI) — Kenichi Horie, 34, set off from Osaka in a 22-yacht yacht Sunday on a 10-month round-the-world trip which was described by authorities as perilous even for larger vessels.

Some 1,000 well wishers saw off Horie who made a triumphant solo trans-Pacific cruise 10 years ago. Horie's trip will take him west of Hawaii, to the Christmas Islands, Cape Horn, Cape Town, the Tasman Sea and back to Osaka.

Krol Speaks Of American Challenges

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Cardinal John Krol of Philadelphia, president of America's Roman Catholic bishops, said today it is time for Americans to address themselves to the challenges of reconstruction and reconciliation both at home and in Vietnam.

"God willing, the long and tragic conflict in Southeast Asia is apparently drawing to an end," Krol told the opening session of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, holding its semiannual meeting here.

"It is time for Americans to address themselves to the challenges and opportunities of reconstruction and reconciliation not only in Vietnam but here at home as well," Krol said.

"We pray fervently that the American people will do so in the spirit of Christ himself. We pray that the animosities, hostilities, and recrimination will yield to a common effort to promote peace and brotherhood in our own country."

Besides Vietnam, the bishops are expected to focus major attention on the issue of education and have before them a draft pastoral statement, titled "To Teach As Jesus Did."

$50 Million In Budget Surplus

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan and the Legislature have more than $50 million worth of "breathing room" to put together a tax reform package that will look attractive to everyone. But that may not be enough.

The breathing room comes from the surplus in the current state budget and the state's share of new federal revenue sharing funds.

Combined, those two sources give drafters of tax reform plans the leeway to propose tax shunts which lower state taxes for almost all classes of taxpayers.

But supporters of local schools estimate that their needs alone run from $700 million to over $1 billion annually to meet the 1971 Serrano vs. Priest equal education ruling of the State Supreme Court.

They want all of the funds from the surplus and revenue sharing for local schools.

The Republican governor, on the other hand, has proposed an across-the-board cut in state income taxes, and he says he will take the matter directly to voters in an initiative if the Legislature blocks him.

The two factions united in this past election to oppose Prop. 13, the Watson tax initiative. But beyond that, about all that they agree on is that it would be better to settle the tax matter in the Legislature than on the ballot.

That's why a new round of tax reform-school finance negotiations are under way in the final three weeks of the lame duck 1972 Legislature, and both

Quads Reported Doing Well

AMSTERDAM (AP) — Catharina Snoek and her 2-day-old quadruplets were reported doing well today.

The three girls and a boy were born Saturday to the 26-year-old wife of a chemical worker. The couple has been married since 1967, and these were their first children.

The babies were born after a pregnancy of 34 weeks and four days. Three were being kept in incubators today.

sides are motivated to try to find an answer now.

Democratic leaders don't want Reagan to start a voter's initiative drive to bypass them, and Reagan would rather deal with the present Legislature than the one with eight more Democratic assemblymen which will be seated next January.

Reagan and Democratic leaders of the Legislature have negotiated for two years to draft a tax reform measure that would give local schools more money and cut property taxes.

Agreements have been reached on main issues — such as formulas for giving tax relief and on increasing the sales tax to pay for the tax breaks. But those agreements have broken down on details.

Earlier this year Reagan and Democratic Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti agreed on a total $1.2 billion tax shift. Moretti sold fellow Democrats in the Assembly on the plan, but Democratic leaders of the Senate balked and the compromise died last August four votes short of a two-thirds majority in the Senate.

Backers of the Reagan-Moretti bill tried again last week, and came up just two votes short. This week a new set of bipartisan negotiations are scheduled to begin in a joint Senate-Assembly conference committee.

The Reagan-Moretti bill would boost support of local schools by $500 million a year and provide another $500 million in property tax relief.

Fees say a compromise will be worked out if the property tax relief provisions are put off until next year and the Legislature just concentrates on solving school finance problems.

But backers say the old bill is already the best compromise anyone will come up with.

They say the conference committee may draft a school finance bill which both houses will approve, but it will be an idle act if it is vetoed by Reagan for failing to contain some of the property tax limit provisions Reagan won in his negotiations with Moretti.

Leaders of both parties say cutting property taxes for homeowners is a top priority goal. Beyond that, Reagan wants a law which will put a lid on increases in property tax rates by local government.

To get that from Moretti, the governor agreed to a large immediate increase in state support of local schools plus a guarantee of annual cost-of-living increases for local schools in future state budgets.

Senate Democratic leaders James Mills and George Moscone say the deal Moretti made with Reagan gave up too much which Democrats want — such as more renter tax and too much for wealthier homeowners.

They say they want to negotiate a new school support package this year, but that it's too late to try to work out an entire complex tax reform including formulas for renter and homeowner relief and tax rate limits.

"I'd like to see both school finance and property tax relief, but it's obvious both can't be done this year. School finance can be done this year," Moscone said in an interview.

That's a fine idea, agrees Republican William Bagley of San Rafael, the Assembly author of Reagan's past tax plans. But Bagley says it won't work.

If all the surplus money that makes a tax package attractive is put in one bill to help schools and all of the unpopular features — such as a sales tax hike and higher business and consumer taxes — are put in another bill, then the full plan won't pass, he said.

The property tax relief, which Reagan says is badly needed, won't be enacted if it has to be paid for entirely with revenue from increases in the sales tax and other taxes, he said. It takes surplus funds from someplace to make the shift attractive to a majority of legislators and taxpayers.

Reagan switched sides last year and endorsed the concept of payroll withholding of state incomes taxes, which raised the extra funds to make his tax plan of 1971 attractive. But that bill failed and withholding was imposed anyway to bail the state out of a fiscal crisis.

Now revenue sharing funds and the budge surplus are available to sweeten the tax package Reagan supports. None of his aides expect him to give up these bonus revenue sources too without getting his tax reform.

Mrs. C. Taylor
Age 51
Homemaker & Socialite
The best birthday gift my husband ever gave me was to enroll me as a patron in Gloria Marshall's. He brags constantly about the 19½ lbs. and 23½" I've lost. He says he has his glamor girl back and loves the way the new fashions look on me. I feel and look 10 years younger. Once again he loves to show me off to all his friends and business associates.

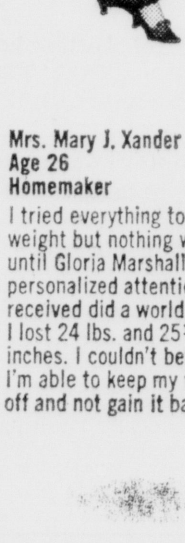

Jill Hoffman
Age 24
Lost 28¾" and 18½ lbs.
Jill says, "When I went to Gloria Marshall I had just had my first baby and still looked pregnant. Now I have lost the weight I wanted. Gloria Marshall helped me re-shape my figure so I look better than when I was first married."

Helen Rossman
Age 64
Retired
I'm 64 years old and mine wasn't a weight problem but one of toning muscles and tightening flabby areas. My buttocks muscles had deflated and I had even considered surgery before Gloria Marshall...

Ann Keener
Age 49
Medical Receptionist
Ann is a busy medical receptionist, housewife, and grandmother who lost 19 lbs. and 21."

Mrs. Mary J. Xander
Age 26
Homemaker
I tried everything to lose weight but nothing worked until Gloria Marshall. The personalized attention I received did a world of good. I lost 24 lbs. and 25½ inches. I couldn't believe it. I'm able to keep my weight off and not gain it back.

Lois Alsbrook
Age 31
Optthalmic Assistant
The impossible dream for me was to weigh less than 140 lbs. and have the courage to start a new life. I have lost over 50 lbs. and as many inches. I really appreciate what Gloria Marshall has done for me.

Unwed Couple Status Held Tolerated

NEW YORK (UPI) —Americans are generally tolerant about unmarried couples living together, according to a survey published by Life magazine.

The survey released Sunday and based on 62,000 replies to a questionnaire, showed that 22 per cent approved of the status of the unmarried couples, with 50 per cent saying it was up to the couples themselves. Only 22 per cent of those responding registered disapproval.

The survey revealed, however, that the stigma of illegitimacy is still alive, with the respondents rejecting 48 to 38 per cent, having and rearing children outside marriage.

The survey also indicated that a large majority—80 per cent—of Americans view their marriages as "happy" or "very happy." The magazine, which termed the sample a general rather than precise cross section, said 60 per cent thought husbands should help around the house, but that 87 per cent were against a formal contract spelling out each other's household duties.

"Collective families," in which everything but sex was shared met the approval of 40 per cent of those who responded, but only 10 per cent said they accepted the concept of group marriage in which sex was shared.

The magazine said that only 2 per cent said divorce should never be permitted, 22 per cent said divorce would be acceptable only in limited circumstances, and 43 per cent said divorce should be readily available if both partners want it.

Building Site Trailer Blasted

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A bomb explosion early today heavily damaged a construction trailer at a building site.

Police said no one was hurt in the blast, which occurred at 2:45 a.m. in a trailer belonging to the Williams and Burrows Construction Co. at 1321 Golden Gate Ave.

Bomb squad officers found a timing device at the scene of the blast. The area was sealed off for further investigation.

FTC Opposes Credit Bureau Acquisitions

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) today said it plans to challenge the acquisition of 45 rival credit bureaus by the Retail Credit Company, Atlanta, Ga., the nation's largest distributor of information on consumers.

The proposed complaint alleged that the acquisitions "may substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in the consumer information field."

Retail Credit gathers and sells information about consumers to business concerns for insurance, claims, credit, employment and marketing purposes, the FTC said.

Coffee Concert Series To Present Flutist, Pianist

The Dominican College Coffee Concert Series will present flutist Bonnie Williams and pianist Nancy Lyle Bennett in a program at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in Caleruega Hall on the San Rafael campus.

Music by Saint-Saens, Nelly, Debussy, Bloch, Bozza, Shostakovich, Kennan and Poulenc will be featured.

Miss Williams, who lives in Terra Linda, and Miss Bennett, of San Anselmo, have been playing together for about five years.

House To Vote Electronically In The Future

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House of Representatives' system of handcounting roll call votes, which dates back to 1789, will be scrapped when the 93rd Congress convenes Jan. 3.

In its place, the House will utilize the world's most modern electronic voting machine. The new device, according to experts, is expected to save thousands of congressional man-hours.

Each member's name and vote (or on quorum calls, his presence) will be displayed in lights on the front wall of the House chamber. So will the result of the vote.

Housing Plan Review Set

The Novato Planning Commission will review plans by John Kenney for 2,300 housing units on 700 acres south of Highway 37 near Black Point at 8 p.m. today at the Novato Community House.

Planning director Brian W. Matson has recommended that the commission withhold action since an environmental impact report is required.

Kenney has proposed both attached and detached single-family homes, commercial, office and resort areas in a large type development including homes on pilings over the lagoon.

Miss Williams, flute teacher at Dominican, has been a soloist with the Vallejo and Stockton symphony orchestras and has played with the Oakland Park Band and the Marin Symphony.

Miss Bennett is one of the founders of the Inverness Music Festival and now teaches music appreciation at College of Marin. She combined a major in criminology with earning a music teaching credential at the University of California, Berkeley.

Occult World Is Not Strange To Minister

By PAT ANGLE
Dr. M. Thomas Starks is probably the only Southern Baptist minister around who has participated in a black mass, talked to a man who died in the Civil War and been nearly knocked to the ground by a witch's spell.

Collecting weird experiences in the occult world is all part of Starks' job as director of the Department of Interfaith witness for the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board in Atlanta, Ga.

It all sounds strange, but less so when one considers the department seeks to establish greater communication and understanding among all types of religious groups in the United States. And Starks sees the wide range of occult practices as religious rites which are becoming increasingly popular and cannot be ignored.

"There is a great fascination with the occult and it is becoming a major force, both among young people and adults," said the genial 33-year-old minister. "We needed someone in our group who would be familiar with the occult and could speak about it intelligently, without fear or superstition."

"We needed someone who could really communicate with the people who are into these things."

So — for the past three years — Starks, currently a guest professor at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry — has traveled from coast to coast, collecting data on everything from astral projection to demonic possession.

He has participated in ceremonies of all kinds ("as far as my conscience would permit me") and has interviewed many of the big names in the psychic "Who's Who," from Diane Kennedy Pike, widow of Bishop James Pike, to Anton Le Vey, the San Francisco Satanist.

In his wanderings, the professor has met approximately 30 witches, 20 astologists, 15 exorcists and 20 spiritualists. He has also encountered a variety of other rather unusual folk, including a man who had just spent a week in ancient Egypt on a psychic trip and a woman who had trouble getting her astral body to come down from the ceiling.

Some of the experiences have been chilling ones, like a seance with four college students in Atlanta in August of last year.

Starks recalls that a "shadowy, smoky substance" suddenly appeared in a corner of the room and the group heard a strong masculine voice speaking.

"The voice told us his name was Oscar, that he was Jewish and had fought in the Civil War. He said that if we went to a certain burial place in Virginia we would be able to find his grave and know it immediately."

A visit to the cemetery did reveal the grave the voice had mentioned. It was immediately recognizable because it had a star of David, rather than a cross, atop the stone. "We later found out that Congress had passed a law three years before permitting Jewish soldiers, including those already buried, to have the stars, rather than crosses on their graves," Starks said. "Before that, all soldiers had been buried under crosses, regardless of their religion."

On another occasion at the University of Oklahoma, Starks went to the room of a known witch with two students who had been trying to convert the man.

"We were standing there talking when the witch turned around and apparently cast a spell. Our heads and shoulders snapped back like there was a force attacking us." Extremely frightened, the three fled the room. Later, the two students developed livid bruises on their shoulders and chest.

Although most cases of demonic possession mentioned in the Bible are today discounted by many people as mental illness or convulsions, Starks said his experiences have led him to the conclusion that possession — even in 1972 — is a reality.

In August of 1971, he said, he was present at the exorcism of a demon from a young woman who had, for no apparent reason, slipped into a deep depression about a year before. "She had been a friendly girl from a wholesome family, but she hadn't smiled in a year, could no longer study or make friends."

As the ceremony neared completion, Starks said the girl began coughing and suddenly uttered "a loud, inhuman cry, the weirdest thing you could imagine," then threw up and went into convulsions. "Just as the cry came forth, I saw other people in the room acting as though they were being attacked by some force."

"From that moment on, the girl was fine, just as she had been before."

Starks has come away from his explorations with the conviction that the burgeoning interest in the occult is going to reap great benefit for the Christian religion.

The obvious question is, why? Starks believes that the rise of interest in spiritualism, witchcraft, Satanism and the like is "going to heighten interest in all things supernatural" and create a bridge back to traditional Christianity.

He is also convinced that as people learn more about the occult and discover "there is really something to it," they will be more likely to renew other beliefs in the supernatural, including those which form the basis for the Christian religion.

Starks sees nothing wrong with a minister learning more about the occult world, though he has been sharply criticized by some people who think he has "no business doing what I'm doing."

He defends his beliefs thus: "Wherever truth is to be found in any kind of religious practice, I want to find it, no matter where it is."

Hull, an employee with Jack in the Box restaurant, was last seen alive Tuesday, said the coroner's deputy. His roommate filed a missing person report with the San Rafael Police Department Thursday.

The California Highway Patrol was unable to determine when the accident happened. After they were notified by park rangers, highway patrolmen found skid marks on Bolinas Ridge Road at the point where Hull's car went over the embankment.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapel in Mill Valley.

Behr Says Prison Part Of Peninsula Plan Area

By FRANK FARRARA

San Quentin Peninsula bulked large in discussion at Saturday's Larkspur Town Meeting, with a legislator warning that any planning done include future use of the state prison.

Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, told the gathering of more than 100 persons at Redwood High School that the entire peninsula must be considered as an entity and said piecemeal planning would prevent the most beneficial use of the land.

He reminded the conferees at the city's third annual town meeting that he has asked the state to consider dedicating to public use the 440 acres, only 13 of which are occupied by prison buildings.

He noted that the Golden Gate Bridge District plans a ferry terminal on the peninsula and that the Los Angeles firm of T. I. Properties plans major development of about 200 acres.

This and any other planning should be done in the context of the peninsula as a whole, Behr said, recommending that the city consider carefully any overall planning of the area.

Residents made a series of recommendations on San Quentin Peninsula, city planning and transportation, designed to control growth and maintain community character.

Major recommendations included establishing a 40-member advisory committee to review the city's general plan, and securing the North Ridge area, about 1,300 acres, lying in Larkspur, Corte Madera, Mill Valley and unincorporated area, as open space under Marin County's open space program.

Residents recommended a study to determine the impact on environment, economy, population, transportation, schools, fire protection and sewage facilities before the city accepts a peninsula general plan and rezones the area.

They also recommended that the public be guaranteed access to and views of the bay, that ridgetops be kept open, and that all structures be in proportion to natural surroundings, that there be open space, that traffic growth be kept within reasonable limits, that any development should "yield a favorable return" to the city, that planned unit development or similar planning technique be applied to the area, that a significant part of the residential development be "owner occupied" and of moderate density and that some provision be made for low-income housing.

David Van Pelt of Dan Coleman Associates, which prepared the plan by T. I. Properties for 200 acres in the Hutchinson Rock Quarry area, east of Highway 101, said the recommendation for 1,450 housing units previously mentioned wasn't final but a basis for study.

In general planning, residents endorsed the proposed Marin County countywide plan to limit growth in Marin to 286,000 by 1990.

They also endorsed the policy of the Association of Bay Area Governments to limit the rate of growth to 1.7 per cent a year by land use controls, and restricting accessibility and urban services such as transportation, water and sewer systems.

While considering a proposal to oppose any further widening of Magnolia Avenue, one resident questioned the philosophy of controlling growth by restricting transportation. "Is the idea to have lousy public transportation to discourage growth?" he asked.

Another resident said the "idea is to accommodate the people here and not run a feeder line for others." Another said, the problems can't be solved with the attitude: "We're here. Keep the rest out."

Residents urged the city council to designate the North Ridge area as a study district and adopt a plan for the area.

They charged that all city ordinances "that control future development are grossly inadequate" and should be revised and that revision should include ordinances governing signs, underground utilities and landscaping.

Prior to any decisions that significantly affect either the environment or the economics, there should be a detailed environmental and/or economic study, the residents recommended.

The Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way should be obtained for public use and available for pedestrian and bicycle use, but shouldn't be used for motor traffic, residents recommended.

They were a split on whether the right-of-way should be used for local excursion trains, but the majority approved such use.

Residents opposed any further widening of Magnolia Avenue, any further interchanges along Highway 101 between Greenbrae and Corte Madera and extension of William Avenue to Highway 101.

Residents also split on whether to request re-evaluation of San Quentin Point as a site for the Golden Gate Ferry terminal, but after a show of hands, meeting Chairman Charles Brousseau ruled that the majority favored re-evaluation.

Warren (Hi) Patton was elected 1973 meeting chairman, Sallyanne Wilson, vice chairman, Jo Woodruff, secretary, and Ernest Baela, treasurer.

Recommendations from the meeting will go to the city planning commission and city council.

Petaluma Allotment Panel Ends Preliminary Review

The Petaluma Development Allotment Board has finished preliminary review of 16 building applications and will begin weeding the winners from the losers Wednesday.

The 17-member board must decide which of the building applications will be approved under the city's limitation of development to 500 dwelling units per year.

Applications studied at the Saturday session included Lyle D. Hood's request for eight units on the northside of Grant Avenue off Mountain View Avenue. Hood, a member of the Petaluma Planning Commission, applied for two three-unit apartments and two single-family homes. Board members questioned if residents of the area might object to the apartments since the neighborhood is now purely single-family homes.

Petaluma Partners requested 100 apartments as the first phase of a 480-unit development on 105 acres on the eastside of Ely Road at Caulfield Lane Extension.

The total plan included 200 apartments, 184 single-family homes, 96 townhouses, eight acres commercial and a five-acre park.

Carleton Reinaldo of the Old Adobe School District board said he saw no way that schools could accommodate the many new students the development would bring. Others complained that the greenbelt proposed in the environmental design plan had been totally disregarded by the builders.

Receiving more favorable response was the application of Ronald Nunn for six homes on 10,000-square-foot lots on Dickson Hill off West Street.

Camille Enterprises asked to build 51 townhouse units on Keokuk Street near Magnolia Avenue. Members said the plan does not conform to the city general plan for the area.

In another Camille application, 33 single homes were requested for land south of Hillcrest Hospital near B Street. Board members questioned potential access problems and said plans were incomplete.

The application of J. W. Combs for 12 houses on Cherry Street at the rear of St. Vincent's school met with disapproval as members agreed the present street would be too narrow to accommodate the additional houses.

In two separate applications, Valley Green Inc. requested 60 homes on Casa Grande Road west of Casa Grande Junior-Senior High School and 100 units on Ely Road north of the school. The second application would be the first phase of a 254-home subdivision.

For the next meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at city hall, members said they would prepare lists of questions on various applications to be put to city staff members. It is expected that next week developers will be called in to make 10-minute presentations to the board and to answer questions.

Redevelopment Agency Is On Novato Agenda

The Novato City Council will reconsider establishing a redevelopment agency when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Novato Community House.

Last month the council voted to form the agency, then at a subsequent meeting reversed itself, voting 3-2 to terminate it. Councilmen George C. Quesada, Fred F. Ruegg and Dorothy Young voted to table the issue.

The proposal to form the agency to bolster commercial development in the downtown area was opposed by some residents because redevelopment projects weren't specific and because it would freeze tax assessments for various agencies in the project area.

Tax assessment increases in the area would be used to finance redevelopment. The council also will consider an ordinance calling for environmental impact studies of projects which have significant effect on the environment.

Man Is Wounded In Gun Accident

Raymond D. Wise, 18, of 370 Jewett Road, Petaluma, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital yesterday for an accidental gunshot wound.

Police said Wise was examining a friend's .22-caliber pistol at 3:45 p.m. at the Union 76 station on Petaluma Boulevard South at D Street when the gun accidentally discharged. Wise was shot in the third finger of his left hand and lower part of his left leg.

San Rafael Man Found Dead In Auto Wreckage In Park

The body of a San Rafael man was discovered yesterday in a wrecked car three or four days after he skidded off Bolinas Ridge Road in Mount Tamalpais State Park and plummeted about 500 feet to his death.

The body was found by hikers who came across the demolished car lying in a stream at the bottom of a steep ravine.

The man, Richard Reginald Hull, 19, of 555 Canal Street, was pronounced dead at 5:30 p.m., but the county coroner's office said he probably died three or four days ago.

He suffered massive head injuries and a broken arm and shoulder, the coroner's deputy reported.

Job Search On For Rebel Black Sailors

SAN DIEGO (UPI) —The Navy tried today to find acceptable jobs on shore for a group of rebel black sailors who staged an unprecedented walkout last week from the crew of the aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

The personnel crisis on the carrier led the head of the service, Adm. Elmo Zumwalt, to deliver a tongue-lashing in Washington to a group of more than 80 top-ranking officers. With his words also aimed at others throughout the Navy, he blamed the trouble on the failure of commanders in the system to carry out his orders to eliminate racial discrimination.

The Navy said it would begin "counseling sessions" today for 123 dissidents, who have been assigned to three naval air stations in the San Diego area.

nounced dead on arrival at 7:52 p.m. at Valley Medical Center, Fresno.

The Fresno County Coroners Office said Legare and a friend, Frank Conklin, also of Petaluma, were hunting in the Kirch Flat area near Pine Flat Lake when the accident occurred at 5:40 p.m. Conklin was reportedly unloading his rifle when it discharged shooting Legare in the back of the head.

Legare was a native of New Hampshire and had lived in California 16 years. He was retired as chief installation officer for the Department of Defense, based at the Presidio of San Francisco.

He is survived by his wife, Carol; three sons, Christopher J. and Carey F. Legare of Petaluma and Cyrille L. Legare of Sonoma; a daughter, Cynthia M. Kramer of Davis; a brother, Charles Legare of New Hampshire; two sisters, Josephine Toney and Agnes Hurlbutt, both of New Hampshire; and a grandchild.

Funeral will be Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Wallin and Son Funeral Home, Sanger, Fresno County. Burial will be at Sanger Cemetery.

Live Dangerously And Leave The Trump Out For An Extra Chance

There's no absolute virtue in being thorough in everything you do. In fact, it pays to leave some jobs half-done. For example, when you're drawing the enemy's trumps, it may be very tidy to draw all of them; but it may be far more profitable to stop while there is still one trump out. Today's hand proves the point.

Neither side vulnerable

NORTH	EAST
A 9 6 4	A 8 7 3 2
K 4 2	K 3
Q 8 7	A 10 4 3

A K Q 2	J 9 8 4	Q 8 7	10 7

ABANDONS TRUMPS
West opened the queen of spades, and declarer won at once with dummy's ace. He next drew just two rounds of trumps, with the ace and king. This left one trump out, as South well knew, but he wisely abandoned trumps. He switched to clubs, leading out the three top cards in that suit. This seemed dangerous, but it was actually South's safest line of play. If the player with the last trump could ruff a high club, it would mean that the clubs were not going to break 3-3. In that case, South could avoid the ruff by drawing all of the trumps, but then he would have a losing club in his hand and would surely lose a club and three diamonds.

MAY DIVIDE EVENLY
If the clubs were 3-3, nobody would ruff a high club. The contract would then be unbeatable no matter how South played it.

If the clubs were 4-2 or worse, South could make the contract provided that the opponent with long clubs also had the last trump. This possibility was the extra chance.

As it happened, West had to follow to all of the clubs. East showed out on the third club, but had no trumps. South could then lead his last club and ruff in dummy. This assured the contract.

DAILY QUESTION
Partner opens with one no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON B. GREE

World travel seems to characterize today's birthday celebrities, who were born in Mexico, Austria, Scotland, and North Africa.

1. LINDA CHRISTIAN, Hollywood starlet of the 1940s and 50s, is a year older today. At first a fashion model, she was discovered by MGM and featured in such films as "Holiday in Mexico," "Green Dolphin Street," and "Tarzan and the Mermaids." Now 49, this Mexican lovely has been living in Europe. Do you remember whether she was once married to Errol Flynn, Turhan Bey, or Tyrone Power?

2. OSKAR WERNER, Viennese-born film star, is 50 today. He made his stage debut with the Burg Theatre in Austria, then starred in a series of European films, including "Eroica" and "Jules and Jim." He now lives in Los Angeles, where he has been directing films for — television, the underground theater, or commercial firms?

3. ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON, poet and writer, was born Nov. 13, 1890, in Edinburgh, Scotland. Trained in law, he was inspired to write short stories and novels by his frequent travels to foreign lands. He died at 54 in Samoa. Is it true he won the Pulitzer prize for authoring the "Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde"?

4. ST. AUGUSTINE, North African religious leader, who lived from 354 to 430 A.D. started out as a wild, fun-loving youth. Converted to Christianity, he became one of its strongest advocates, defending church doctrine in a 22-volume work, "City of God." Guess at what age he started his career as a Catholic priest — 27, 37, or 47?

ANSWERS

1 — Tyrone Power; 2 — 37; 3 — No; 4 — 27.

Blast Is Made At Remedial Education

DALLAS (UPI)—Professionals should quit worrying so much about the causes of learning disabilities and turn their concern to methods of retraining these children, a nationally known specialist says.

"The great concern should be in analyzing the problem and specifying where the difficulty is, then set up remedial training," says Dr. Samuel A. Kirk, professor of special education at the University of Arizona. He stresses the importance of detecting learning disabilities at an early age.

SUMMONS
(UNLAWFUL DETAINER)

Case Number 38292
Municipal Court of California, County of Marin Central Judicial District
Marin County Hall of Justice, Civic Center
San Rafael, California 94903

Plaintiff: C. HAROLD HOBBS and ELPORTAL INVESTMENT CORPORATION vs.
Defendant: BETTY DAVIS
To the Defendant:

A civil complaint has been filed by the plaintiff against you. If you must file in this court a written pleading in response to the complaint (or a written or oral pleading, if a Justice Court) within THREE days after this summons is served on you. Otherwise, your default will be entered on application by the plaintiff and the court may enter a judgment against you for the money or other relief requested in the complaint.

If you wish to seek the advice of an attorney in this matter, you should do so promptly so that your pleading, if any, may be filed on time.

ALMANAC

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL
Today is Monday, Nov. 13, the 318th day of 1972 with 48 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

British author Robert Louis Stevenson was born Nov. 13, 1850.

On this day in history:
In 1921, the movie, "The Sheik" starring great film lover Rudolph Valentino was released for public viewing.

In 1933, the first recorded "sit-down" strike in the United States was staged by workers at the Hormel Packing Co. in Austin, Minn.

In 1927, the Holland Tunnel under the Hudson River between New York City and New Jersey was opened. It had been under construction for seven years.

In 1956, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that segregation of the races on public buses was unconstitutional.

A thought for the day: Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes wrote, "The Life of the law has not been logic; it has been experience."

Landscaping Plans
Before Supervisors

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, meeting tomorrow at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center, will consider plans for landscaping areas around the Hall of Justice.

The plans, submitted to the board two weeks ago by the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation, call for $290,000 worth of landscaping to be done in stages.

Pierre W. Joske, director of county parks and recreation, said he will recommend about $120,000 worth of improvements
this fiscal year.

the Highway 101 side of the building would receive the most attention this year.

Landscaping of the proposed Judge Harold J. Haley Memorial Row, a park-like setting of trees and grass near the building's main entrance, would be turned over to local garden clubs.

The remaining area is to be landscaped by private contractors who also would install sprinkler and irrigation systems.

The supervisors' meeting will begin with a "workshop session" at 9 a.m. in Room 332 with the human rights commission. The commission was re-constituted earlier this year after controversy erupted over the previous commission's activities.

Hub Woman Wins
Three Show Events

Mrs. Bernard Keener of San Anselmo, a member of the Chrysanthemum Society of Marin, was the winner of the change trophy, best potted plant award and the best exhibition reflex at the recent National Chrysanthemum Show in Oakland.
Other Marin winners were
Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Johnson and
Lt. Col. and Mrs. Paul J. Sib-bitt, both couples of Novato.

Doctor Tells Kansas Man How To Help Shrink Painful
Swelling Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues

...caused by inflammation and infection.

Prairie Village, Kan. — Mr.
Joseph Sutton reports: "My doctor suggested suppositories.
I chose Preparation H suppositories. On a physical check-up my doctor noted how effectively it works."

(Note: Doctors' tests have proved Preparation H actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation. It's so effective that in many cases, the first applications give prompt, temporary relief from pain and itching in such tissues. There's no other formula like doctor-tested Preparation H.)

For Assault

WEEHAWKEN, N. J. (UPI)
—Police said a man they identified as a top Boy Scout executive was booked for assault with intent to kill Sunday night following a scuffle with an off-duty New York City policeman in the Lincoln Tunnel.

Weehawken and Port Authority Police said George Freeman, 63, identified as a Boy Scout executive based in Washington, was freed on $10,000 bail pending a hearing in Weehawken
Municipal Court Tuesday. Freeman suffered a gunshot wound of the left wrist and a head wound requiring 21 stitches during the scuffle with Ptl. John Reig, 21, police said.

Freeman filed a counter-charge of assault against Reig.
Freeman, a resident of Alexandria, Va., was accused by Reig of attempting to run the patrolman down following a minor collision at the Manhattan entrance to the tunnel under the Hudson River.

There were differing accounts of the incident.

Reig, according to police, said that after the collision between Reig's and Freeman's cars, Reig, in civilian clothes, got out to exchange licenses with Freeman.

The patrolman's complaint, filed with the Weehawken police, alleged Freeman gunned his engine, allegedly attempted to hit Reig, and then drove off in the slowly moving heavy traffic with the off-duty officer hanging onto the hood of his car.

Mansonites Suspected In Slayings

STOCKTON, Calif. (UPI) — Two men and three female members of the "Manson Family", were held today as suspects in the cold-blooded slaying of a young Marine and his wife.

Police said the three women, arrested with the two men at a residence in Stockton Sunday, had scarred crosses on their foreheads—a mark that identified the women in the notorious Southern California hippie "family" of Charles Manson.

Manson and several other members of the gang are now serving prison terms for the slaughter of actress Sharon Tate and a number of other shocking "thrill" murders.

The body of a young woman, shot through the head, was found in a shallow grave in Stockton Sunday. She was tentatively identified as 19-year-old Lauren Willett, of Los Angeles, the wife of a young Marine whose body was found near Guerneville, Calif., last week.

Investigators said the woman had been dead only a day. She was killed by a .38 caliber bullet through the head.

The body of James T. Willett, 26, was found last week by a hiker on a trail near the resort community of Guerneville, 60 miles north of San Francisco. The victim's hand was protruding out of the ground. He had been dead several months.

Police at Stockton, a major farming center 70 miles east of San Francisco, said they had arrested Michael Monfort, 24, Oct. 3 on charges of robbing a liquor store. He identified himself as Willett and later jumped bail on the charge.

Officers recaptured him Saturday and questioned him about having Willett's identification.

Others arrested at the apartment were James Craig, 33; Priscilla Cooper, 21; Nancy Pitman, 24; and Lynette Fromme, 24. Officers said they were all being held for investigation of the two murders. Willett's discharge papers were found in the residence, according to police.

A Stockton detective said the group were all transients. "These people travel — Los Angeles, Guerneville, Sonoma County, San Francisco, Stockton. They have no address," said an officer. Monfort was described as a jail escapee.

Miss Fromme was identified during Manson's trial as the first female member of his "family." Miss Pitman ran away from home at 16 to join the group of hippie cultists.

CHALLENGE:

New Democratic Party

Unruh To Oppose Yorty For Mayor

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Jess Unruh will formally announce his candidacy for mayor very soon. And like a prizefighter who has been out of the ring for two years, he is well-rested, wiser for past wear and eager to throw that first punch.

"I think we have a good shot if I can finance it. And I don't think that should be too big a problem," he said.

"One on one I can beat anybody in this city. I've never lost an election here, for myself or anyone I was handling."

The former Assembly speaker, once California's most powerful Democrat, discussed his views on the mayor's job, sized up his potential opponents and analyzed Sen. George McGovern's landslide debacle during an interview in his eighth floor office of the Subway Terminal Building, a few blocks from City Hall.

"McGovern lost the election almost from the day he staked out his base for the primaries. He had to move so far over to the left to get support that it was highly dubious from then on whether he could ever get back far enough," said Unruh, who ran for governor as a liberal populist two years ago and lost to Gov. Ronald Reagan by a half million votes.

Unruh added that organized labor, which generally remained neutral during the presidential election, will determine whether Democrats decline to minority party status or regain their majority strength.

"No other group has the ongoing muscle to really compete with the principle elements of the McGovern coalition. If organized labor doesn't move back into the Democratic party reasonably quickly and compete for party control," he said, "then I think the Democrats are in bad shape."

Just turned 50, Unruh again is putting on weight and is up to 210, about 15 pounds over his fighting size in the 1970 campaign. There is only a slim resemblance, however, to the 300-pound "big daddy" that ruled the Assembly a decade ago.

Republicans tagged Unruh with a "boss" label during his 16 years in the legislature, seven of them as speaker. But he said unlike the gubernatorial race, "I'm not going to run away from it this time. I'm going to run on my record, my ability and what I can do for the City of Los Angeles."

"This city," Unruh said, "has to be the most incompetently organized entity in private or public life. The taxpayers are really getting clobbered."

Unruh, offering a preview of issues he will raise during the campaign, said the city and county should eliminate duplicative services.

Marin Singers To Perform At Benefit

Marin singers Marian Marsh and David Wade will be among the performers in a benefit concert and buffet supper Friday at 8:45 p.m. at the Warehouse Cafe in Port Costa.

Music from "Carmen," "Kismet" and "Man of La Mancha" will be featured.

He also said the mayor should be "leading the charge" to develop a rapid transit system, obtain more federal money and lobby the legislature to eliminate tax breaks for businesses that locate in neighbor cities.

"There are businesses just over the line in Beverly Hills and El Segundo that pay $100 a year in business taxes. If they were across the line in Los Angeles they'd be paying $75,000," he said.

If no candidate receives more than 50 per cent of the vote in next April's primary election, a runoff will be held in late May between the top two vote getters.

The other candidates are expected to be Mayor Sam Yorty, seeking a fourth four-year term; Tom Bradley, a black city councilman who lost to Yorty in a bitter 1969 runoff, and Tom Reddin, a former police chief who quit to become a television commentator.

Here is how Unruh sized them up:

Yorty—"I don't think he has much strength among the voters, given some reasonable alternatives. But I still think he has the ability to raise money. He has the business community a bit afraid of him. He cannot be re-elected unless he gets Tom Bradley through the primary."

Bradley—"He is very strong in a primary, but cannot win a runoff. He still is supported by a majority of blacks and the hard-core liberals, but beyond that I don't see any of his old coalition left. He lost it by a wishy-washy campaign and by the fact some people don't think he can win."

Reddin—"If he'd run directly from the chief of police's job he'd probably have been unbeatable. He had a responsible city job, but left that for more money. He clearly bombed out as a television commentator. Now he's back looking for a city job again."

Unruh will enter the race with the same campaign management firm — Spencer-Roberts — that guided Reagan through the 1966 and 1970 gubernatorial contests.

Since leaving the legislature, Unruh has taught law school classes, been a consultant for a land developer, delved into conflicts of interest for the Carnegie Foundation, conducted a radio talk show and dabbed as a broadcast newsman.

Graham Plans Tour In India

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Government sources said today New Delhi has given rare permission to American evangelist Billy Graham to visit the insurgency-ridden northeastern state of Nagaland, where they said he plans to hold a revival meeting.

The sources said Graham can go to Kohima, capital of Nagaland, for "a few days" this month.

Graham's associates said he plans to preach to tribesmen in Kohima during the closing days of his Nov. 17-23 revival.

Quiet Man Hart
One Of Best Ends

Tommy Lee Hart is a large, quiet man. He has not received the publicity given to other defensive ends in the National Football League, but there is no doubt he is one of the best in the business.

Teams don't run his side of the line much. Hart plays on the left side of the 49ers defense, with all-pro linebacker Dave Wilcox and all-pro cornerback Jimmy Johnson behind him. It's no wonder teams run and pass against the right side of the Niners' defense.

HART MADE two very big plays in the last quarter of yesterday's 24-21 victory over the Baltimore Colts. He was playing on a very painful, swollen and bruised right knee, injured in the second quarter.

The first came right after Colts' quarterback Marty Domres was shaken up after completing a pass to the 49ers' 40-yard line. Domres departed to catch his breath and in came the fabled Johnny Unitas amid a loud ovation from the 49er fans who remembered John's better days when he was throwing passes to the likes of Ray Berry and Jimmy Orr. But this wasn't going to be one of those kind of days for John.

On Unitas' only play of the game, he took the snap from center and started dropping back deep on a pass play that needed time to set up. Hart was not going to let Unitas have that time. He came at Unitas with arms flailing, and when he got to him he showed no regard for John's reputation; he threw him to the turf. The ball squirted out of Unitas' grip and 49er tackle Bob Hoskins recovered on the Colt 39. Five plays later Steve Spurrier completed a 25-yard pass to tight end Ted Kwalick in the end zone for the final, and winning, 49er touchdown.

But Hart was not done. He had one more big play to deliver on his gimpy knee.

IT WAS ON BALTIMORE'S final series when the Colts, trailing by just three points, started getting dangerously near field goal range. They were on the 49ers' 40 with a second down and Domres dropped back to pass. But there was Hart again, dropping the quarterback for a seven-yard loss and putting the Colts out of field goal range. Two incomplete passes later the Niners had the ball with nothing to do but play out the final few seconds.

After the game Tommy was in the training room for half an hour with a doctor working on his swollen knee. Although he didn't look overjoyed, Hart, who has been one of the team's few consistent performers this year, said, "I'm probably happier with my performance in this game because those big plays helped win the game." Then, looking down at his puffed up knee, he muttered, "Now I'll have to go have my knee drained. I've had my left knee drained four times

Madden's Salesman Technique

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hefty John Madden turned salesman at halftime of the Oakland Raiders' National Football League battle with Cincinnati Sunday, and the dividend was impressive.

"We just had to tell our players that we had to stay with what we were doing," Madden said after his Raiders dominated second-half play and rallied for a 20-14 victory that shoved them back into first place in the Western Division of the NFL's American Conference.

The Oakland coach, himself a bulky ex-pro player, smiled over his squad's domination of second half action.

The Raiders trailed 7-3 at the half, but amassed 251 offensive yards thereafter while punching across a field goal and two touchdowns.

Smith responded with 146 yards in 25 carries, his best performance in a five-year career, while Hubbard added 98 yards and Davis had 44.

"Their offensive line just overpowered us," said Bengal Coach Paul Brown. "It's that simple. They worked to the left and then were able, and content, to overpower that area."

The Raider defensive front also played a key role, with right tackle Art Thomas blocking one Cincinnati field goal attempt and aiding in the block of another.

Cincinnati's lone scoring came on former College of Marin star Doug Dressler's one-yard plunge in the second quarter and a 39-yard pass from Ken Anderson to Chip Myers after the issue already was settled in the final stanza.

The Raiders got a pair of field goals from aging George Blanda, but managed the winning margin on Davis' one-yard

STEVE MATURING

Spurrier's Play Big Difference

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Steve Spurrier matures with each game he plays, and it's starting to make a difference for the San Francisco Forty Niners.

Spurrier, the former Heisman Trophy winner who has languished on the San Francisco bench for five years, finally got a chance to play four games back. And you'd have to say he has made the most of the opportunity, forced by an ankle injury to veteran John Brodie, while guiding the Forty Niners to a 2-1 record.

Sunday, the young quarterback directed a near flawless San Francisco offense that generated 205 yards rushing and 110 yards passing. It all paid off in a 24-21 victory over the Baltimore Colts.

Spurrier threw two touchdown passes — one of seven yards to Ken Willard at the start of the game and another of 25 yards to Ted Kwalick near the end to run his season TD total to 10. He hit on 10 of 14 throws in all, using the pass only when he had to, while Larry Schreiber and Ken Willard were tearing the Baltimore defense apart with a slashing ground attack.

Schreiber, in his best game as a pro, ran for 104 yards in 17 carries while Willard picked up 68 yards in 18 tries.

Tar Harriers Finish Third

College of Marin's cross-country team finished third in the Camino Norte Conference meet Saturday in Belmont, scoring 87 points to 22 for victorious West Valley College of Campbell.

Lee Hotchkin led the Tar runners with an eighth-place finish, while Bob Bunnell came in 14th, Joe Kinn 19th, John Streett 22nd and Frank Elias 28th. Mike Schaechter of West Valley won the race in 22:06 over a muddy four-mile course.

Team Standings — West Valley 22, Santa Rosa 83, College of Marin 87, Solano 91, Skyline 141, Contra Costa 175, Cal State 180, Alameda 200, De Anza 224.

National Football Conference West with five games left to play.

To say Sunday's victory over Baltimore, now 2-7, was a big one would be to understate the case. A loss would have ended the season for the Forty Niners, but instead they now are back in the chase.

An eight-yard run by Schreiber and a 44-yard field goal by Bruce Gossett accounted for the other San Francisco points while Baltimore, behind a fine effort by young Marty Domres, scored on an 80-yard kickoff return play, a five-yard run by Don McCauley and a 62-yard pass from Domres to Sam Havrilak.

The McCauley touchdown came in the second minute of the final quarter and left the Colts only three points back. They stopped the Forty Niners on the next sequence and then began a drive that carried them to a first down on the SF 40. The play that did it was an 11-yard pass from Domres to tight end Tom Mitchell. But on the play Domres had the wind knocked out of him.

In trotted Johnny Unitas to a warm hand from a capacity crowd of 61,214. But in one play, the Colts suffered disaster.

Unitas took the snap, faded back for a screen pass but before he could put the ball in the air, defensive end Tommy Hart, who had sacked Domres earlier, spilled Johnny and the ball squirted out of his hand at the San Francisco 39. Bob Hoskins fell on it and in four plays the Forty Niners scored what proved to be the winning points — the 25-yard toss by Spurrier to Kwalick.

Domres came back the next time the Colts got the ball and got them a quick score on a 62-yard heave to Havrilak. But the damage had been done and there simply wasn't enough time to make a run for victory after that.

Redwood, Trojans Share Grid Crown

Terra Linda Gains Bowl; Tam Beaten

By LEW CODDINGTON
Terra Linda High School's football team earned a trip to the Top of the Bay Bowl by defeating Tamalpais High in the Bottom of the Swamp Bowl Saturday night at San Rafael High, 21-0.

The mud-splattered victory before 2,000 fans gave the Trojans a 5-1 Marin County Athletic League record and the co-championship with Redwood. Because they defeated Redwood in a head-on clash Oct. 14, they won the right to represent the MCAL against North Bay League champion Petaluma in the first Top of the Bay Bowl at Napa Memorial Stadium Saturday at 8 p.m.

"It's a joke," said Terra Linda coach Don Lucas about the field, thick and muddy despite a 24-hour pause since the last previous rain. Afterward, he was able to laugh, for his team is 5-0 on muddy fields and 0-4 on dry ones in 1972.

Terra Linda now has won or shared the title six times in seven seasons, missing only last year.

TROJANS

The Trojans' defensive unit confined Tam to 70 yards total offense and five first downs in the sloppy going, and set up all three touchdowns. The offense rushed for a creditable 153 yards but failed to complete a pass.

On Tam's first series, Rich Nicholes intercepted a pass and returned it 10 yards, after which Terra Linda drove 35 yards in seven plays to score on a one-yard run by Scott Logan with 6:43 left in the first quarter.

This score remained the only one on the board until midway through the fourth period. Meanwhile, the teams exchanged 14 punts and neither mounted a serious threat.

BAD SNAP

With eight minutes left in the contest, a poor center snap on a punt gave Terra Linda the ball on Tam's 45-yard line. Trojan Pete Corbett slogged 18 yards, and one play later, waded 28 more for a touchdown. Corbett led all rushers with 81 yards in 10 carries.

When Terra Linda punted after its next possession, Tam's receiver fumbled and Trojan Sean Casey recovered on the Indians' six. After a penalty moved the ball to the three, Larry Offenbach went in for the last score.

Tamalpais never got closer to scoring than Terra Linda's 25 yard line. In the second half, the Indians managed just two

Giants Top Drake '11' In Finale

Redwood High School's football players, brusquely taking those few things Drake High did not give them, romped to a 48-6 victory over the Pirates Saturday to capture the co-championship of the Marin County Athletic League.

Daryl Edralin scored three touchdowns and a conversion, intercepted two passes and rushed for 79 yards as the Giants concluded their first championship season since 1962 before 1,200 fans in Larkspur.

THE RECORDS

Redwood tied Terra Linda for the title with a 5-1 MCAL record, but had a superior overall mark of 8-1. The Giants closed strongly, plastering their final two foes by an aggregate score of 89-6.

But it wasn't until after the game that the Giants came up with perhaps their finest achievement of the year — hoisting burly head coach Phil Roark onto their shoulders in celebration.

"Most of the seniors on this team were sophomores on that 1-8 team and remembered when everybody put it to us by 35-0 and stuff like that," said Roark. The tables certainly have turned.

Drake contributed mightily, coughing the ball up eight times on six interceptions and two fumbles. Four of the turnovers came in the first six minutes, and Redwood converted three into touchdowns for a 21-0 lead with only 7:44 gone in the game.

DEFENSE

In addition to grabbing all the turnovers, Redwood's defense restricted Drake to five yards rushing and 115 total as the Pirates lost their fifth league game in six tries. Drake's overall record is 2-7.

Quarterback John Troppmann began the scoring with a four-inch quarterback sneak after Drake fumbled on its first play from scrimmage and tackle Mike Tessin recovered.

TURNOVERS

On the next series, Drake fumbled on its second play, but Redwood couldn't convert. On the next, Pete Massoletti made a wind-aided interception, and Edralin scored on a one-yard run. On the next, Katsumi Johnson picked off another windblown pass, setting up a two-yard run by Mike Connor.

Redwood scored again just before the half ended as Edralin made an interception and later ran three yards for a touchdown.

Connor returned a kickoff 52 yards to open the second half, and Redwood marched 39 yards in seven plays. Connor sweep

Barnett Gives Lift To Warriors

NEW YORK (UPI) —When guys like Nate Thurmond, Rick Barry or Jeff Mullins can't do it, it's nice to have somebody like Jim Barnett around.

He scored five of his 22 points in overtime and fed off to Thurmond for the winning basket Saturday night to give the Golden State Warriors a 103-102 victory over the New York Knicks in Madison Square Garden.

The Warriors spent the weekend in Fun City awaiting Tuesday night's game against the Hawks in Atlanta.

After humiliating losses on the road to the Boston Celtics and Detroit Pistons, the victory over the Knicks was most welcome.

New York jumped off to a comfortable lead and had a 78-72 advantage entering the final period. Then the Warriors defense went to work, limiting the defending Eastern Conference champions to 18 points in the final 12 minutes while scoring 24.

It took a basket by Bill Bradley with one second remaining to produce a 96-96 deadlock in regulation time.

Barnett then notched a basket and free throw. But Walt Frazier cut the deficit to a single point with a basket. Barnett scored again to make it 101-98.

A Bradley basket shaved the Warrior lead to one point but Barnett fed Thurmond for a layup that proved to be the game winner.

Its taste is ahead of its time.

Today, more men and women everywhere welcome Canadian Club. New friends appreciate its gentle manners. The pleasing way it behaves in mixed company. Old friends admire its unmistakable character. A taste not matched by any whisky, anywhere. C.C. — the taste that's ahead of its time. Taste why, tonight.

Taiwan Golfers Win World Cup

Combined AP & UPI

TOKYO — Affable and Popular Hsieh Min Nam and Lu Liang Huan won international prestige for the Republic of China (Taiwan) yesterday by capturing the team and individual trophy in the 20th World Cup golf team championship in Melbourne.

It marked Asia's first triumph in the event since Torakichi (Pete) Nakamura and Koichi Ono turned the same trick in the Canada Cup (the event's previous name) in 1957. Nakamura also won the individual trophy.

Hsieh and Lu, who are well known in Japan because they both are now playing out of Japanese golf clubs, defeated Japan's team of Takaaki Kono and Takashi Murakami by two strokes. Hsieh also won the individual honors by a two stroke margin over Kono.

Basketball

PHILADELPHIA — The Philadelphia 76ers traded center Bob Rule to the Cleveland Cavaliers for forward Dave Sorenson in a National Basketball Association transaction.

Tennis

HOUSTON — The suspension of the Women's International Tennis Federation (WITF) from the International Lawn Tennis Federation will ruin the international women's cup events, the director of the WITF said yesterday.

Mrs. Gladys Heldman, founder of the WITF, said there can't be any Wightman Cup, Federation Cup or Bonnie Bell Cup because all the major players in those events were suspended by the ILTF action Saturday in Rome.

TORQUAY, England — Australia's Margaret Court defeated Britain's Virginia Wade for the third straight week, 2-6, 6-3, 6-1, to win the fourth leg of the Dewar Cup Indoor Championship series.

STOCKHOLM — Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., bested Tom Okker of The Netherlands, 6-4, 6-3 to win the $63,500 Stockholm Open Grand Prix men's singles title.

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. — Pancho Segura of La Costa, Calif., rallied to defeat Tom Brown of San Francisco 6-2, 7-6 in the finals of the Walston International Senior Open.

Auto Racing

SAO PAULO, Brazil — Emerson Fittipaldi's Lotus 69 won the City of Sao Paulo trophy for Formula II cars by amassing 15 points in the three-round tournament.

Horse Racing

LAUREL, Md. — Droll Role bowed out of racing in a blaze of glory Saturday when he won the $150,000 Washington D. C. International by four widening lengths in 2:38 4/5 for 1 1/2 soft miles.

Baseball

SAN FRANCISCO — Veteran relief pitcher Don McMahon has been released as an active player and signed as the Giants' full-time Pitching Coach for 1973. McMahon, who will be 43 next Jan. 4, served as a coach last year while also appearing in 44 games as a short relief man and finished the campaign with a 3-3 record and an ERA of 3.71.

WELCOMING COMMITTEE — The clean uniform of Dan Walsh (40) of Terra Linda High School didn't stay clean for long as he was met and dropped after a four-yard gain in the second quarter Saturday night at San Rafael by a phalanx of Tamalpais High defenders. Terra Linda won, 21-0, to clinch the Marin County Athletic League football co-championship and a trip to the Top of the Bay Bowl.

Rancho Cotate Earns 2nd Perfect Record

By PAUL DWORIN

Rancho Cotate High School of Rohnert Park concluded its second consecutive perfect football season Saturday in Menlo Park, with a 16-0 non-league win over Menlo School. The Cougars finished with a 9-0 overall mark and won their second Sonoma County League championship in a row.

In other Southern Sonoma football Saturday, St. Vincent of Petaluma beat host Kelseyville, 12-8, to set the Mustangs' final North Central League II mark at 2-3. St. Vincent was 4-5 for the year.

The Rancho Cotate victory was the result of a balanced offensive attack and stingy defense. The Cougars gained 278 total yards (149 rushing and 129 passing), and limited Menlo to just 48 yards total.

On the first series of the game, Dan Detling caught a screen pass from Bob Haas and ran 51 yards for the first touchdown. In the second quarter, Wayne Hill capped a 50-yard drive with a four-yard scoring plunge.

Jerry Wachowiak added a safety to the Cougars' total in the fourth quarter by tackling a Menlo quarterback.

St. Vincent scored in three plays after recovering the opening kickoff which Kelseyville made no attempt to get. Quarterback Pete Leoni ran 18 yards for the touchdown. The Mustangs' winning points came on Bode Bolin's 65-yard run on a fake punt attempt.

Ham, Mercury Key Ingredients

The ingredients were different—Pittsburgh used Ham and Miami used Mercury—but the results were the same—a step closer to the National Football League playoffs.

Jack Ham, the second-year linebacker from Penn State who has been the star of the Pittsburgh defense this season, recovered two fumbles Sunday to enable the Steelers to score 10 points in the last six minutes and upset the Kansas City Chiefs 16-7.

The victory, combined with Oakland's 20-14 triumph over Cincinnati, pushed the surging Steelers two games in front in the American Conference Central Division race and dropped the Chiefs a half-game behind Oakland in the West.

Miami, meanwhile, unleashed Mercury Morris on New England and the elusive running back from West Texas State scored three TDs in the first half to set the stage for a crushing 52-0 rout of the Patriots. The victory was the ninth without a loss for the unbeaten Dolphins.

In other action Sunday, Washington beat the New York Giants 27-13, Minnesota held off Detroit 16-14, Denver upset Los Angeles 16-10, San Francisco downed Baltimore 24-21, Atlanta ripped New Orleans 36-20, Green Bay topped Chicago 32-17, Dallas whipped St. Louis 33-24 and Philadelphia edged Houston 18-17. Cleveland is at San Diego tonight.

Kansas City led 7-6 on Jim Kearney's 65-yard return of a pass interception when Ham recovered an Ed Podolak fumble on the Chiefs' 37 to set up a 49-yard field goal by Roy Gerela, his third of the game, with 5:10 remaining. On the next series, Ham recovered Jim Otis' fumble on the Kansas City 18 and Franco Harris ran seven yards for the crushing TD.

Morris scored on runs of four, four and six yards in the first half as the Dolphins built a 31-0 lead and reserve quarterback Jim Del Gaizo threw two TD passes in the second half as the Dolphins clobbered New England.

Charley Johnson threw a seven-yard TD pass to Jerry Simmons and Jim Turner kicked three field goals to lead Denver to its upset of Los Angeles.

Emerson Boozer lifted his league-leading TD total to 13 with two scores as the Jets rolled over Buffalo. Joe Namath had two TD passes for the Jets to boost his total to 15, a league high, while John Brockington and Scott Hunter ran for TDS and Chester Marcol kicked three field goals to spark Green Bay over the Bears.

Toni Fritsch's four field goals and a 41-yard TD pass from Craig Morton to Ron Sellers helped Dallas stop St. Louis and Tom Dempsey kicked six field goals to account for all the Philadelphia scoring in the Eagles' triumph over Houston. Philadelphia won by blocking a 43-yard field goal attempt by Skip Butler with 16 seconds left.

In the American Football Conference after nine weeks, Miami holds a three-game edge over the Jets in the East, Pittsburgh has a two-game bulge over Cincinnati in the Central and Oakland holds a half-game lead over Kansas City in the West.

Madden credited his offensive line's dominance of the Bengals' defensive front for keying the victory.

"We have gotten a little out of balance to the left side. . . run so much that way," he said. "But if you're successful, you don't change it, you take credit for it."

Tars' Nightmarish Year Ends With Loss

By DAVE EINSTEIN

College of Marin's nightmarish 1972 football season came to a predictable end Saturday as the Santa Rosa Junior College Bear Cubs dumped the Tars, 20-7 at Kentfield.

The loss, eighth for the Tars in nine games, left them with an 0-5 record in Camino Norte Conference play, good for last place. Santa Rosa finished 6-3 overall, 3-2 in the CNC.

Despite the loss, the Tars had to be happier than in the two previous weeks, when they absorbed 60-7 and 43-7 drubbings. In a temporary reversal of form, they had the score tied 7-7 at halftime, and came within six yards of evening things again in the waning moments of the third quarter.

But Santa Rosa outmanned and outweighed the injury-riddled Kentfield team, and those factors took a toll in the late going.

The second time they got the ball in the third period, the Bear Cubs scored the winning touchdown on a 37-yard play action pass from Gary Margison to halfback Jerome Dowdy. Rod Mummert wrapped up the scoring in the fourth quarter with an 11-yard touchdown run which followed the fifth and final interception off Tar quarterback Kevin Donohoe.

All was not dismal for Donohoe, however. He directed Marin 53 yards on 10 plays toward the end of the first half and capped the drive with a 2-yard plunge that tied the score.

WATER POLO: 3 LOSSES FOR TROJANS

Terra Linda High School lost all three of its games Saturday and was eliminated from the Northern California Invitational water polo tournament.

"Their (the opponents') swimming ability was just too much for us," said coach Chuck Metz after his Trojans lost to James Lick of San Jose, 14-5; Campolindo of Moraga, 13-3; and Beyer of Modesto, 9-7, at Gunn High in Palo Alto.

Lick and Campolindo were among the eight teams who advanced to the final rounds of competition to be held Friday and Saturday.

Dan Grady led Terra Linda's scorers with six goals in the three games, followed by Keith Strange with four and Todd Gulick with three.

New Owners Are Hoping To Put Alvarado Inn On The Eating Map

Two San Rafael chefs, who operate the highly successful Marin Civic Center cafeteria, just purchased Alvarado Inn (former Rancho Rafael) restaurant, bar and motel in Ignacio.

Donald A. Giovannoni and Camille Bamatter, who have been running the cafeteria in the Hall of Justice for almost two years, bought the Alvarado Inn last week from a corporation headed by John Dreyfous and his son, John Dreyfous, who operates Duracite Manufacturing Co. in San Rafael.

The new owners plan to operate the Alvarado Inn under the same name. "We don't intend to change any of the existing policies, but will lean more heavily on good food to see if we can get Alvarado on the map," said Giovannoni.

They will serve three meals of international foods seven days a week. "Banquet facilities are unlimited," Giovannoni announced. "The main dining room holds 250, and we have facilities for smaller groups." He said details are not worked out as yet because they just took over last week, but some musical entertainment is planned. "We may have a piano bar, at least on Friday nights."

Alvarado Inn has 70 motel units and a pool. The Dreyfouses owned it for the past two years. It was known as Rancho Rafael under the previous owner, Max Key, who had it for five or six years.

DON R. KUHN of Mill Valley, formerly general sales manager at Felton Volkswagen in San Rafael, was appointed new car sales manager at Annex (Datson) Motors at 535 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

Kuhn was with Felton for three years until last month, when he transferred to Annex Motors.

ALPHA BETA Acme Markets will open its first Marin County branch Wednesday in Larkspur at 5070 Magnolia Avenue, corner of Doherty Drive.

The 23,200-square-foot store will have open house from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesday, followed by the grand opening at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Store supervisor is Ronald Winegarden of Novato, who has been with Alpha Beta since 1970, when he started as grocery clerk in the Santa Rosa supermarket. He was working in the Napa store as grocery department head before his promotion to the Larkspur job.

Assisting Winegarden will be department heads John Puccioni, produce; and Pete De Bries, meat. Puccioni and Bastesi come from Alpha Beta's Santa Rosa market, and De Bries from Salinas.

JACK McIVOR, formerly with Felton Volkswagen and Dexter Toyota in San Rafael is manager of Dexter Leasing Limited, an independent corporation that leases all makes and model cars. Dexter Leasing operates out of the Annex Motors building on Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael.

McIvor, who lives in Sonoma City, worked for Felton Volkswagen for eight years and for Dexter Toyota for the past two years.

REALTORS BREAKFAST—Handwriting analysis and the role it might play in the evaluation of real estate clients and brokers will be discussed tomorrow (Tues.) at the breakfast meeting of the Marin County Board of Realtors. The meeting starts at 8 p.m. at the Corte Madera Lions Club.

Speakers are William Brannan of Fox & Carskadon, a handwriting analyst, and his wife, Marian, a master graphologist.

A DRESS FITTING demonstration will be given by a fashion expert at Kaufman's Fabric Land, 836 Fourth Street, San Rafael, tomorrow.

Miss Trilla Klinzman, fashion stylist for Simplicity Pattern Co., will give a lecture and demonstration on "Know your correct pattern size" at 10:30 a.m. and again at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

The fashion expert will have a complete set of basic fitting dresses which the customer may try on to determine her correct pattern size and figure type.

JAMES C. NELSON of San Rafael, executive vice president and creative director of Hoefer, Dieterich and Brown Inc. in San Francisco, has been appointed to a second term as an alternate member of the National Advertising Review Board. The term is for two years.

Nelson is a frequent lecturer, author and composer.

THE MARCH OF DIMES North Bay chapter headquarters has moved from 710 C Street in San Rafael to new quarters in Northgate Industrial Park.

Executive Director David N. Traber and his staff moved into room 16 at 4460 Redwood Highway on Nov. 3. The office has been at 710 C Street for 18 months, and in Petaluma and Vallejo before that.

The new office is the headquarters for the National Foundation of the March of Dimes for four counties—Marin, Sonoma, Napa and Solano.

William Hoy Company negotiated the lease of new quarters for the March of Dimes. The Hoy Company also arranged the following leases at Northgate Industrial Park:

BEAUFAN MANAGEMENT Co. in the La Plaza Building at 4340 Redwood Highway expanded its office space to a total of 1,188 square feet. Beaufan Management, headed by G. E. Webb of Novato, is a holding company for a truck parts firm and an electronic assembly company, and operates a health and life insurance company.

DIGITAL TELEPHONE Systems Inc. at 4460 Redwood Highway leased an additional 1,840 square feet at the same location to bring its total space to 7,568 square feet.

E. E. GREGG Snazelle of Sausalito has been named chairman of a San Francisco creative screening panel for the 13th annual International Broadcasting awards sponsored by the Hollywood Radio and Television Society.

Snazelle, president of Snazelle Films Inc., will name a committee of seven to ten top creative people from the advertising and broadcasting industries to the panel. This panel will help select award winners in this year's competition. Some 40 creative screening panels around the world will assist in the selection of winners.

1973 TRIUMPH STAG

The Triumph Stag V-8 features include styled cast aluminum alloy wheels and full length side stripes. The '73 Stag also has tinted glass all-around for a cooler ride and improved seats. Photo shows the Stag with optionally steel hard top. Other options include air conditioning, overdrive and automatic transmission. Power assisted brakes and steering and power operated windows are standard. Brown Motors Inc. of San Rafael is the Marin County dealer.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Turnaround Issue For Dillingham

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Do you advise selling Dillingham (NYSE) at a loss or holding for a comeback? — O.K.

A. Economic recovery in Hawaii has picked up. The after effects of the West Coast dock strike, which were still visible in the opening months of this year, have now disappeared. Tourism set a record in August despite a sharp drop in the military rest and recuperation program. Highway construction appropriations for the current fiscal year are up 120 per cent over fiscal 1971. This latter should be beneficial for Dillingham, a major contractor on the islands.

In the first nine months of 1972, Dillingham's operating revenues edged ahead 2 per cent. Earnings of 35 cents a share were reported, up from a 2 cents a share deficit recorded in the like 1971 period when cost overruns penalized results. Contracts from the state for a $10-million cultural center and a $22-million stadium should contribute to further earnings gains in 1973. Revamped management, emphasis on consolidation and internal growth and the expanding economies of the Pacific Basin countries are also favorable factors. This is a definite hold.

Q. I am one of two people controlling a portfolio which includes 300 shares of Kennecott Copper (NYSE). Safety and income are the objectives. Divestiture of Peabody Coal, the loss on Chilean property and weak copper prices seem to justify sale. Your advice would be appreciated. — A.M.

A. Kennecott's struggle with Chile for compensation on the expropriated property has now been abandoned. A $26.2 million write-down was taken in the third quarter as a result. The legal battles continue, however, in the courts of France and Sweden where Kennecott has claimed rights to shipments of copper.

Hedrick Named Vice President Of Wickes Corp.

SAN DIEGO (BW) — E. L. McNeely, president and chief executive officer of the Wickes Corp. has announced the appointment of T. J. Hedrick as a vice president of the corporation and general manager of Wickes Forest Industries division, whose headquarters are in Dinuba, Calif.

Hedrick has been with the Wickes organization for the past 12 years, his latest position being that of executive vice president and general manager of Continental Moulding Co., Orange, Calif., a member of Wickes Forest Products group.

Hedrick is a past president of the Western Wood Moulding Producers Association.

Wickes also has operations in Lindsay, Auberry, Fresno, Chowchilla and Petaluma, Calif., Grangeville, Idaho, and Portland, Ore.

Stock Split Eyed

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — A 2-for-1 split of Bank of Tokyo of California common stock will be proposed to shareholders by the bank's management, Masao Tsuyama, president, has announced.

Anything beats the airport.

Well, almost. Rowing is good exercise, and you can row through the Bay, but it can get a little tiring and it's pretty slow. Also, you have the same old hassle with the luggage.

SFO Helicopter neatly solves all those problems. They check your luggage through, then zip you to the San Francisco Airport in style in just 11 minutes for as little as $8.37. And you won't have any parking problems.

14 flights daily between Marin and the airport. For timetables and fares, call or write SFO Helicopter or your travel agency or connecting carrier.

Stock Traders Wary After Record Friday

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices moved narrowly moderate in active trading today as traders adopted a wait-and-see attitude after Friday's record-breaking session.

Advances edged declines, 683 to 618. Two-hour turnover came to more than 7,600,000 shares, compared with 8,720,000 in the same period Friday.

In the news background, reports said White House envoy Gen. Alexander Haig may not have made much progress in his meeting with South Vietnam's President Thieu.

American Telephone and Telegraph was the most active issue, rising 5-8 to 51 on 158,700 shares. AT&T, the most widely held stock, has helped spark the recent market revival, analysts said.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange moved slightly higher in moderate trading. Pubco Petroleum was the most active Amex issue, unchanged at 11 3/4 on 71,200 shares.

Motors declined on the Big Board. General Motors lost 1/4, Ford and Chrysler 3-8 apiece.

Superior Oil, a sharp riser last week, skidded 3-4. The high-priced firm reported earnings of $1.21 a share against 21 cents a share for a ninth month period. Other oils were mixed. Getty Oil gained 1-4.
